LINDBERGH SAYS NEGOTIATED PEACE ONLY WAY OUT OF WAR

Says He Is Against Aid To Britain

Lease-Lend Bill Is Viewed as Step Away From Democracy, One Toward War
Advocates Bases
Would Have Air Fields and 10,000 First Line Planes

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh flatly asserted today that even a combination of the United States and Great Britain could not win the European war "on the present basis" and he urged a "negotiated peace."

The famous flier told the House foreign affairs committee that he did not believe that "anything short of war or beyond war" would win the struggle unless there was a collapse behind the lines of one side or the other.

He said he believed the stand of "the American people" in favor of aiding the British "was a mistake." And he declared he was opposed to the lease-lend bill for British aid because it was "a step away from democracy" and "one more step closer to war."

Entrance into any foreign war, Lindbergh said, should be avoided, for regardless of what happened abroad this country and this hemisphere are "strong enough" to protect themselves. He advocated establishment of a string of air bases by this country and the creation of an air force of about 10,000 first line planes and an equal number of reserves, exclusive of trainers. Such a force, he said, would "insure American security."

Testifying at a House foreign affairs committee hearing on the aid-to-Britain bill, the flier was asked by Representative Luther A. Johnson (D., Tex.) whether he had ever expressed sympathy "for one side or another."

"I prefer to see neither side win," the aviator said quickly. "I prefer a negotiated peace. A victory on either side would result in prostration of Europe of a type we've never seen."

"It would be one of the worst things that could happen," he declared.

"Are you in sympathy with England against Hitler?" Johnson asked.

In Sympathy With People
"I'm in sympathy with the people—not their aims," Lindbergh replied.

Lindbergh said that "a total air force of about 10,000 thoroughly modern fighting planes plus reserves" would "insure American security" regardless of the outcome of the war in Europe.

Later it might be necessary to change the number, he said, reading a prepared statement, but that would depend on circumstances.

"But an industry capable of building and maintaining a 10,000-plane air force would, I believe, have adequate flexibility to meet any emergency," Lindbergh said. He read slowly, glancing up at committee members from time to time.

As for a transoceanic air invasion, accompanied by the landing of troops, Lindbergh said that was "utterly impossible." Further, he said, that while bombing raids from across the Atlantic could do "considerable damage on peace-time standards," in time of war the cost would be tremendous, "enemy losses would be large, and the effect on our military position negligible."

His 10,000-warplane figure compared with the approximately 25,000 planes of all types the army has on hand or on order and the 10,000-plane goal toward which the navy, alone, is working. President Roosevelt has announced a goal of 50,000 modern fighting planes together with a production capacity of 50,000 a year.

A half hour before the tall, blonde aviator entered, the big hearing room was packed with

Two Persons Are Killed, Twelve Are Hurt in T. W. A. Plane Crash

Chief Pilot, Passenger Die as Craft Falls at St. Louis After Hitting Tree

St. Louis, Jan. 23 (P)—Only a mile from safety, a big Transcontinental & Western liner crashed before dawn today approaching Lambert-St. Louis municipal airport, killing the chief pilot and a passenger and injuring 12 other persons.

Flying on instruments, Captain P. T. W. Scott passed over the field at 4:13 a. m., CST, and three minutes later he was dead in the wreckage of the ship, "The Sky-Sleeper."

J. F. Mott, a TWA employee who boarded the plane as a passenger at Kansas City, also was killed.

Far behind schedule, the airliner, enroute from Los Angeles to New York, flew low across the field and then banked to the left in making a swing for a landing from the southwest.

Residents of the neighborhood heard an angry roar of the twin motors, apparently when the pilot "gunned" his engines in an effort to climb. A "big flash" followed.

Clips Maple Tree
The giant plane clipped a maple tree, 40 feet high, ripped a wing across the top of a row of trees and a telephone pole and smashed to the ground in the back yard of a farm house. It did not burn.

One motor was torn from the plane while it still was in the air and the other broke off at the impact with the ground.

One side of the ship was sheared away and the first persons to reach the scene said some of the passengers were able to get out by themselves. The others were helped out. Ambulances took six injured to one hospital and five to another.

TWA reported this list of passengers and their injuries:

C. W. Joergensen, 788 North Clay, Kirkwood, Mo. Broken back, condition serious.

J. S. Walters, 111 S. Dearborn, Chicago, broken ribs and cuts.

Mrs. Mary McCloskey, Burbank, Calif., wife of TWA employee.

T. E. McCloskey, skull fracture, condition serious.

Tom Stoddard, Los Angeles, wrenched arm.

Mrs. J. H. Hidden, San Pedro, Calif., internal injuries, serious condition.

Joe Washburn, enroute to St. Louis, address unknown.

G. B. Shaw, Pickwick Hotel, Kansas City, enroute from Omaha to Harrisburg, Pa.

Stuart Sanford, TWA mechanic, Burbank.

Mrs. F. E. Ekey, Philadelphia, who boarded the plane at Los Angeles.

E. C. Criggs, Columbus, Ohio.

First Officer Orestes Dio Guardi also was injured and was taken to a hospital. Miss Mary T. Eshback of New York, the hostess, was hurt only slightly.

Several of the passengers were in berths in the sleeper plane and others were sitting up when the crash occurred.

Breaks Like Watermelon
Bouncing after it fell, the airliner broke apart like a dropped watermelon. A police official said, "it's miraculous how anyone escaped alive."

The telephone pole snapped and was found lying across Mott's body.

Baggage, mail and bedding were scattered over a wide area. Off to one side a broken bag exposed five clean laundered shirts.

Ground Fog and Factory Smoke Give Northeast Respite From 'Air Raids'

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—Ground fog and factory smoke gave the industrial northeast a temporary respite today from "enemy" bombers, but 10,000 volunteer civilian watchers remained alert at 700 posts to flash "invasion" warnings as soon as the weather cleared.

A heavy blanket of smoke blown by a 10-mile wind from Connecticut's New Haven-Bridgeport industrial area enveloped Mitchell Field where 15 Douglas B-18 bombers and 60 pursuit planes were grounded.

Army spokesmen said the mock attacks and defense flights in the test of aircraft warning systems would be resumed as soon as the smoke and a heavy ground fog cleared.

Civilian observers took up their posts on country clubs, hillsides and other lookout stations again today as the aid defense command began its third day of maneuvers to foil "enemy" bombers attempting to reach objectives throughout the industrial northeast.

Private Citizen Willkie Takes Clipper

Exchanging words with an airways employee, Wendell L. Willkie (right) prepared to board the clipper plane which started him on his way from New York to England to look over the situation at first hand. Willkie was accompanied by John Cowles, Minneapolis publisher, and Landon Thorne, retired New York investment banker. Willkie stressed again that he went "as a private citizen."

Agencies Strive to End Strikes to Aid Defense

Donovan Talks To Slav Premier
Starts Conferences With Yugoslav Leader

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Jan. 23 (P)—Colonel William J. Donovan, unofficial American observer on a secret mission, today talked to Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic in starting a round of conferences with Yugoslav government leaders. He came here after similar talks in Sofia, Bulgaria.

In Sofia, King Boris of Bulgaria ordered an intensive search for a missing wallet belonging to Colonel Donovan, containing a diplomatic passport, two letters of introduction signed by Secretary of State Hull and Navy Secretary Knox, letters of credit and an undisclosed amount of money.

The colonel discovered his loss yesterday. It was first assumed the wallet might have been mislaid, but today's continuing search led increasingly to the conclusion that it had been stolen.

Asked at the United States legation in Belgrade if he also had lost important documents, Donovan replied:

"I have no documents, I have it here," and pointed to his head.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—The position of the Treasury January 21: Receipts $35,113,688.86; expenditures $85,643,095.84; net balance $1,531,681,761.90; working balance $1,531,681,761.90; customs receipts $789,950,075.99; expenditures $5,922,370,239.25; excess of expenditures $2,763,513,574.70; gross debt $45,157,324,061.00; increase over previous day $8,699,863.68; gold assets $22,085,363,337.20.

Employees Stop Work
Employees at the Alabama Drydock and Shipbuilding Company of Mobile, a navy destroyer repair base, stopped work without striking after conferences failed to negotiate agreement on pay increases. Also, labor spokesmen said 77 men quit work at the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation yard in Pascagoula, Miss., in a similar situation.

All was peace and harmony in the Vultee aircraft plant at Nashville, Tenn., where representatives of labor and management announced signing of a contract barring strikes and lockouts, providing pay raises and vacations with pay. The contract took form in a month of amiable discussion.

This accomplished, CIO Leader Richard T. Frankenstein looked to organization of the 15,000 workers at Consolidated Aircraft Corporation as "our immediate objective" and said the CIO-UAW planned to organize wherever there is an aircraft plant on the west coast.

A tie-up of construction at the $6,000,000 army cantonment at Indiantown Gap, Pa., was threatened earlier in the week when a union representative said members would not be permitted to install non-union made metal devices, but the construction quartermaster there talked optimistically today of "a satisfactory agreement."

Helbing Outlines Value of Scouting At Annual Session

Cossackie School Director Discusses Conditions, and Causes Behind Youth Cases

Annual report of the Ulster-Greene Council will be found on Page 11.

Frederick C. Helbing, superintendent of the State Vocational School at Cossackie, was the speaker at the annual dinner of the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts, held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday night.

Speaking from some 42 years' experience in the field of correctional work, Mr. Helbing gave his hearers much to ponder over as he told of some of his experiences with those who had gone on the downward path, gave briefly some details regarding the prisons that are "packed to the doors," and discussed causes and conditions that were back of the tales of woe, vice and crime that had been told to him by thousands of boys.

At the outset of his talk Mr. Helbing said that he was not going to talk much about his institution, the half million dollars a year it takes to run it, or the inmates, ranging from 16 to about 25 years, convictions for every known offense except murder, and sentences running from three to 30 years.

"I am interested in the institution," said Mr. Helbing, "but am far more interested in the prevention of crime." He said that prevention was far more important than cure and added that he had often thought, as he listened to the story told to him by some youthful inmate, "if only some real man had gotten hold of this boy a year or so ago."

Indicts Communities
As to the responsibility for the conditions that prevail Mr. Helbing brought a general indictment against the whole community—all the people, the parents, the churches, the schools.

He said that he had often asked the question, as he addressed P. T. A. groups (generally conspicuous because of the absence of fathers in the group) "I wonder where your boy is tonight?" As one answer to that question he told of having stopped at a large road house, not too far away from this section, at a rather late hour one night and noted that the bar was filled while in the crowd that filled the dance floor "there was not one boy or girl that was over 20 years of age."

The speaker emphasized his point by relating several experiences in the course of his work, in which fathers had been surprised to find out where their sons were spending their nights—before, the law caught up with them. In one case, in the course of his work, he found a young boy with whom he was acquainted, in one of the worst Bowery dives. It had been but a short time before this that the boy's father had spoken to him with pride of his two fine sons.

In this connection Mr. Helbing spoke of the menace of slum districts, which he said were to be found in every place of any size. New York city, of course, was most prominent in this connection, but, he said, Kingston has them, as does Poughkeepsie and Newburgh. "What is the community doing to wipe out these places?" the speaker asked.

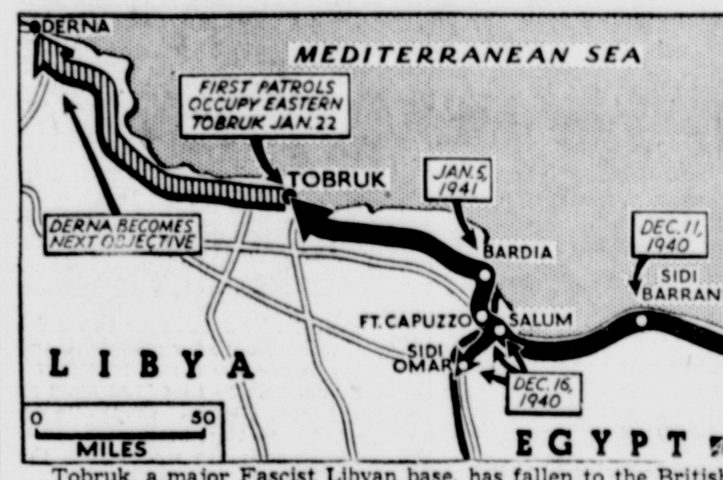

Recreation Is Stressed
One antidote for these slum conditions, and similar conditions that lead boys astray, was seen to be found in providing for boys the recreational life they desire and need, under proper conditions.

The schools were found at fault in not providing for boys a program that would fit them for life. All students cannot join the intelligent class, he said; a lot of boys are "hand minded" and would make successes of their lives if given the proper training. Reference was made to the great shortage of skilled mechanics today to carry out the needs of the defense program. Of significance was the statement that 70 per cent of the instructors at the Cossackie school had "received their training on the other side of the ocean."

Mr. Helbing quoted a survey

Tobruk Falls Into British Hands

Tobruk, a major Fascist Libyan base, has fallen to the British, it was officially announced in London. A communique said: "Shortly after midday Australian troops entered Tobruk. Mopping up operations in the western section of the perimeter are proceeding. The remainder of the defenses are in our hands." These Australians are the same advance units which led the way in a campaign that now has all but consolidated 80 miles of Libyan coastline in British hands. Thousands of Italians—no precise count had been made—already had been reported captured. Black arrow shows extent of British progress. Lined arrow points to Derna, which becomes the next logical objective.

Capital Observers Are Busy Picking Nominee for Court

Attorney General Jackson Is Mentioned More Than Others in Speculation; List Grows Hourly

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Picking a successor for Associate Justice James Clark McReynolds on the Supreme Court bench became a major occupation in the capital today, and the name most frequently mentioned in the unofficial speculation was that of Attorney General Jackson.

President Roosevelt, however, kept his own counsel and the White House was barren of hints as to who would receive the sixth Supreme Court appointment Mr. Roosevelt has had since taking office.

As far as conjecture went, the field was wide open and the number of potential contenders grew with the passing hours. Suggestions were made that the new justice be a westerner, a southerner, a midwestern, an easterner, a Republican.

Even those with other ideas conceded, for the moment, that Jackson had the edge as the most probable choice. Some, however, thought the coveted post might go to Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.), whose nomination would satisfy those who believe a southerner should be picked. It was reported that three Democratic colleagues of great influence—Senate Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.), and Senators Harrison (Miss.) and Glass (Va.)—urged Byrnes' cause in a late conference with Mr. Roosevelt yesterday.

Others Discussed
Besides Jackson and Byrnes, others discussed were:

Francis Biddle, solicitor general;

Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general;

Senator Barkley;

Charles Fahy, assistant solicitor general;

Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.);

Former Senator Ashurst (D., Ariz.);

Former Senator Minton (D., Ind.), now an executive assistant to the President;

Harold M. Stephens, associate justices of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia;

Samuel G. Bratton, circuit court judge in the Tenth Federal District and former Democratic senator from New Mexico;

Florence E. Allen, of Cleveland, Circuit Court judge in the Sixth Federal District;

Robert P. Patterson, undersecretary of war, a Republican;

Lloyd K. Garrison, dean of University of Wisconsin law school;

James M. Landis, dean of Harvard Law School and former chairman of the securities commission;

Report Approved On Disbarment Of Attorney Katz

Judge Hasbrouck Files Report Recommending Disbarment, Appellate Division Approves

The Appellate Division, third department, has approved the report of Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck, official referee, recommending disbarment of Herman L. Katz, local attorney.

Judge Hasbrouck, before whom the hearings were held in this city, said to a Freeman reporter this morning that the testimony taken before him and upon which his recommendation to the Appellate Division was based, had indicated to him that the matter had arisen when Mr. Katz was retained to defend a woman who had been involved in a case in federal court which grew out of an alleged counterfeiting case.

Appears for Woman
Katz appeared for the woman after a suit-case containing counterfeit money had been discovered in a house in which the woman was found, said Judge Hasbrouck. She denied knowledge of the money being there but later on advice of counsel had pleaded guilty. A plea for a suspended sentence had been interposed but the court imposed sentence. Under the testimony taken before Judge Hasbrouck it appeared that sale of a mortgage had been sought to provide funds for the support of the woman's children during the time she was confined. Certain proceeds of this sale of the mortgage were retained by Mr. Katz, who claimed they were due him as a portion of his legal fees in defending the woman. It was the retention of this money derived from the sale of the mortgage upon which the action for disbarment proceeded, Judge Hasbrouck said, and at the conclusion of the hearings he made his recommendation to the Appellate Division that Mr. Katz be disbarred.

Abstract of Report
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 23 (P)—A New York Supreme Court referee believes "there is very little left of knight errantry in the present practice" of law.

In a report—approved yesterday by the Appellate Division, third department—recommending disbarment of the attorney accused of professional misconduct, Supreme Court Referee Gilbert B. B. Hasbrouck of Kingston observed:

"Schools and colleges established for the purpose of fitting lawyers for their profession seem never to explain to them the rise of the profession of law. It grew out of the crusades undertaken to take out of heathen hands the holy sepulchre of Jesus Christ.

"Hundreds of thousands of men who marched from Europe into actual combat, to guide us in future production."

Senator Johnson Proposes Congress Grant Two-Billion Arms for Britain

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Senator Johnson (D.-Colo.) proposed today, as a substitute for the administration's lend-lease legislation, that Congress authorize President Roosevelt to turn over $2,000,000,000 in war equipment to Great Britain to be "tested" and paid for with information on how it worked.

In short, Johnson told reporters in summarizing a resolution he said he would introduce today, "Great Britain would receive the war machines and munitions that she needs and we would receive vital and valuable information on their performance under fire in

Tobruk, 2 Divisions Are Taken

Rumanian Legation at Budapest Announces Many Deaths From Civil Strife

Prisoners Taken
British Take 14,000 Italian Prisoners at Tobruk

(By the Associated Press)
Bloody civil war with hundreds slain was reported in Rumania today, amid conflicting accounts of its progress; while in North Africa, the British announced the capture of two Italian divisions at the fallen stronghold of Tobruk.

The desert bastion, 80 miles inside Libya, was completely taken over by the British last night, it was officially stated, with 14,000 Italians so far counted as prisoners, including four more Fascist generals and an admiral.

"Our casualties are under 500," the British Middle East command said. "Enemy battle casualties have not been fully ascertained, but 2,000 already are being evacuated."

About 200 Italian guns and vast quantities of war materials were taken, it was said.

British military quarters said Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's army of the Nile had now "captured, destroyed or disintegrated" 11 Italian divisions in the Egyptian and Libyan desert campaigns—a grand total of about 132,000 men since December 9.

All told, these quarters said, about 100,000 Fascists have been taken prisoner.

Reports Vary
Reports on the widespread disorders in Rumania varied.

Rumania's legation at Budapest, capital of Hungary, acknowledged "many" deaths, but asserted that Dictator Premier Ion Antonescu was "complete master" of the situation.

Dispatches received in Sofia and Belgrade, however, depicted the strife as mounting in violence, with the pro-Nazi Iron Guard revolutionists—as they were identified by the Rumanian government—having seized the Bucharest postoffice, radio station and military airport.

The Rumanian legation in Budapest said it had received advices from Bucharest that "notorious Communists and very young Iron Guard legionnaires were behind the rebellion."

"Yesterday, 600 legionnaires organized by General George Petrovicescu massed in front of the premier's office and started firing at the building with machine guns."

"Premier Antonescu decided that was sufficient. He instructed the army and police to re-establish order. They quickly cleaned out public buildings throughout the country."

"These Communists and very young legionnaires surrendered in a body, weeping openly and expressing their disgust in themselves."

Belgrade dispatches said that the conflict raged in Bucharest and through the provinces, and that Iron Guard insurgents had massed 30,000 men in the capital.

Commanders in Revolt
Several army commanders were said to have joined the revolt, and troops from the army corps at Brasov were reported headed for Bucharest in trucks to join the rebellion.

Capture of the Italian stronghold of Tobruk left Britain's African armies in control of 80 miles of the Libyan seacoast today and in position for a possible drive against the Fascist bases of Derna and Bengasi.

Thousands of Italian troops were reported captured by Australian forces which swarmed into Tobruk at noon yesterday after a 36-hour frontal assault culminating a 16-day siege.

Reports from the front indicated the number of prisoners would be swelled by mopping up operations now in progress west of the town.

British circles in Cairo, jubilant over the victory, expressed belief nothing short of German intervention on a major scale could save the rest of Crenaica (Eastern Libya) from capture by spring. Should Adolf Hitler decide to intervene, these circles said, the British would have attained an important objective—forcing the Germans to divide their forces for a two-front war.

The Royal Air Force, meanwhile, carried the fight to Germany with overnight attacks during which, the British said, steel, oil and munitions works at Dues-

Central Hudson Movie at Rotary

The Rotary Club at its regular luncheon meeting held Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel enjoyed a moving picture entitled

"At Your Fingertips." The movie, based on the Central Hudson system, was produced by Central Hudson employees throughout the Hudson Valley. The picture graphically depicted the work in connection with supplying this area with electricity and also with its many uses in industry and in the home. The movie was illuminating and thoroughly enjoyed.

Program Chairman Arthur L. Colligan secured the picture and introduced R. C. Dixon, of the Central Hudson, who briefly described the purpose of the movie. Guests present were Mayor C. J. Heiselman, John Saxe and E. E. Crow.

Russia reports there are now 243,000 collective farms, embracing 18,800,000 peasant householders, in the Soviet Union.

Lighting System Is Endorsed By Citizens at City Hall

OPPOSES BILL

Norman Thomas, four times Socialist candidate for president, testified before the House foreign affairs committee that "not even an angel from Heaven" should be entrusted with the powers which the aid-to-Britain bill would give the President.

Project Will Be Sent to Finance Committee of Common Council; All but One Approves

The first step to gain a permanent floodlight system for the municipal stadium was considered at the city hall Wednesday evening when it was decided to refer the question to the finance committee of the Common Council.

Throughout the lengthy discussion a number of spot-minded citizens of the community voiced their approval of the question but desired to await later word on the question of raising money to finance the project.

Only one strong dissenter to the new system at the stadium was Fred Richter of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association. Despite the fact that other speakers stated that the additional tax rate would amount to a very few cents, Richter opposed the idea.

G. Warren Kias, represented Kingston High School and although his school was thinking of booking but one or two football games next fall he saw that the lighting system would be a boost to the gate receipts. Similar comments were given by Jack Robins, Ed Coughlin, Paul Zucca, Joseph Deegan and many others.

Mayor Gives Approval
Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman once again came out for the passing of the project. The mayor said "we can do it," and added the city already had a wonderful stadium but that it could be improved largely by this new addition.

However, the mayor believed that some definite plan for revenue should be made before the final decision. He also suggested that the various local organizations should furnish proof that they could contribute a certain amount to the fund. He later said that, in his opinion, it would be a fine idea to bring a major league baseball club to Kingston.

City Engineer Jim Norton was called upon and reported that a W.P.A. project covering the work had been prepared and the city's share of the cost would be about $10,000 with the federal government contributing most of the labor and approximately $1,000 worth of materials.

Schwenk Endorses Plan
Alderman - at - Large John Schwenk endorsed the project and said that the city should finance it. He pointed out that if the Rees could make money with an inadequate system such as they had last summer, they certainly could do much better with the proper facilities.

Those who attended Wednesday's session were Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman, Jack Robins, Addison Jones, Eugene Cornwell, James Connelly, Edmund Coughlin, James Norton, John Schwenk, Paul Zucca, Superintendent of Schools Arthur Laidlaw, Clarence Rowland, G. Warren Kias, Sid Lutiz, David Levy, Andrew Gilday, Leo Bernard, Stanley Dempsey, B. C. Van Ingen, David Freer, Albert Weirich, Alfred Schmid, president of the Board of Education; Charles Tiano, William Murphy, Joseph Deegan, Matthew Jordan, Fred Renn, Fred Richter, Edward M. Huben, Richard Dawe and Edward Minasian.

Heiselman Issues Proclamation on Birthday Ball

The following proclamation was issued today by Mayor C. J. Heiselman:

WHEREAS, the Ulster County Committee for the celebration of the President's Birthday, held under the auspices of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., will sponsor a Birthday Ball on the night of Thursday, January 30, at the Coq d'Or, Ulster Park, on Route 9-W, for the purpose of raising funds to fight against the "maiming death" of infantile paralysis; and

WHEREAS, there are a great many citizens who thoroughly approve and wish to support the fight against this dread disease, but who are unable to attend the Ball;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that Saturday, January 25, be set aside as a day on which such interested citizens may contribute ten cents to this worthy cause and receive a "Fight Infantile Paralysis" button in return, and I therefore hereby designate Saturday, January 25th, as MARCH OF DIMES DAY, and urge all citizens who can possibly do so to contribute to this worthy cause. The Boy Scouts of America will assist in the campaign and containers to receive dimes have been placed in all prominent places of business throughout the city.

Upon concluding the present campaign 50% of the funds now raised will be retained by our County Chapter and will be used to give immediate aid to those suffering from the terrible affliction of this dread disease in Ulster county.

I give this movement my fullest approval and most enthusiastic endorsement and urge all citizens to unite in this fight against infantile paralysis by generously supporting the work of the committee.

Dated, January 23, 1941.
Conrad J. Heiselman,
Mayor Kingston, New York.

Will even if the United States never got back a dollar of what it spent? "I do."

Did Mr. Knudsen want more power? No, he had all he needed.

Why did he drop a salary of $150,000 a year, plus a big bonus, and go to work for the government for nothing? "I hope it doesn't sound sentimental, but I've been here 41 years now and this country has been good to me. I'm in a position where I don't need money, and I thought I'd like to do something for my country."

How's that for a good picture of democracy?

MEXICAN METALS

Mexico's behavior toward our country, since Avila Camacho became president, seems too good to be true. One after another, difficulties and dangers of long standing between Mexico and the United States are being wiped out.

A current example is the report from Mexico City that the government there will welcome an exclusive arrangement to turn its flow of essential war metals away from the Axis countries. This could be accomplished by the United States buying up the whole Mexican production of such metals. The chief materials involved are copper, lead, zinc, manganese and antimony. Petroleum is an important part of the same problem.

If such an arrangement were made, Japan and Germany particularly would be deprived of considerable imports they can now use to make war on the democracies, including our own country. The importance of cutting off their supplies by methods which at the same time would benefit Britain and the United States and help restore solvency to the Mexican government is obvious. There are some products involved that we don't need, but they all have a nuisance value if the dictators get them.

We could probably stand rationing in this country as long as tobacco wasn't verboten.

CAUSE OF ASTHMA IN CHILDREN

When a physician investigating the cause of asthma in 329 cases in children is able to find the cause in 252 or over 75 per cent, it must be admitted that asthma has now passed the place where it can be called an insurable disease. Today, physicians, while giving the usual treatment for attacks, are patiently trying to learn the cause in each individual case.

Dr. A. V. Stoesser, Minneapolis, in Minnesota Medicine, reports his study of 329 cases and found that foods, pollen from plants, and other substances in the air were, as above noted, the cause in three of every four cases. Fifty-eight children had attacks of asthma associated with infections of nose, throat, sinuses, and bronchial tubes. Because tonsillitis occurred often in this group, the tonsils and adenoids were removed and thirty-eight obtained definite relief. The remaining twenty were not helped by the operation and a few of them were made worse.

There were 122 children whose asthma was not due to food or pollen from plants but to house dust, feathers, and cottonseed. Trying to desensitize these children by hypodermic injection was not very successful. The children sensitive to house dust were difficult to treat because house dust could not be completely removed from the household. The cases sensitive to feathers responded well to the thorough removal of feathers from the home.

At first children sensitive to cottonseed were also difficult to treat but with the reduction in amount of lint dust, good results were obtained. Some of the articles of furniture containing lint cotton were replaced by special mattresses and cushions made of materials free or almost free of allergic irritants.

Patients sensitive to fur or dandruff were cured by removal of these animal substances from their surroundings.

Sudden changes in the weather did have some influence on the asthma, especially among children sensitive to house dust.

Thus it will be seen that the cause of the great majority of these cases of asthma in children was found. Dr. Stoesser does not mention nervousness or emotional upset as a cause of asthma in children; in adults it is agreed that at least a few cases are due to nervousness and emotionalism. It would be only fair to some cases considered due to nervousness or emotionalism that a further search be made for some nose or throat defect, or for some substance to which they may be sensitive or allergic.

Allergy

Allergy or sensitiveness to various foods or other substances may bring on the symptoms of hives, asthma, hay fever, eczema, skin eruptions and others. The first, and as I recall the last Gymkhana to be held in Kingston was staged on Saturday afternoon, June 3, 1915, at the Athletic Field under the auspices of Circle of Mercy No. 5. It was a success both socially and financially. The Gymkhana was a combined horse show, athletic meet and military affair.

Mrs. F. J. Higginson, wife of Admiral Higginson, was general manager with Major George F. Chandler as field director; Kenneth E. Archer in charge of the horse show; Carl M. Preston of the athletic events, and Captain Frank L. Meagher of Company M. The announcer of events and winners was Cornelius Hume with J. H. Tremper, Jr., as clerk of the course.

Variety and color was added to the horse show with the athletic meet and the military program in which the boys of Company M played a prominent part.

Fred Gildersleeve and Miss Mollie Loughran, during the afternoon gave exhibitions of fancy riding while in the athletic events Bill Cook of Kingston Academy won the 100-yard dash; French of K. A. the high jump, and Bishop of K. A. the half mile run.

At the turn of the century under Physical Director Brundage the local "Y" developed one of the finest tumbling teams in its history, and it was not until the winter of 1914-15 that the sport was revived under the coaching of Physical Director L. C. Godfrey when one of the finest pyramid and tumbling squads in the "Y" history was developed.

Among the members of the squad I recall William Bonestell, Arthur Davis, Archie Leighton, Walter Elston, Duane Forman, E. Loughran Elmdorf, Alexander Rodie, Almerie Herb, Frank Elston, Clarence S. Schoonmaker and Fred Wenzel. There were several others who were members of the team, but I have forgotten their names.

Among the distinguished Catholic clergy who have served St. Mary's Church here was the Rev. John J. Hickey, who on Tuesday, June 8, 1915, celebrated the 20th anniversary of his ordination as a priesthood. St. Mary's parish that evening tendered him a reception in the school hall.

There are many of the older members of the local "Y" who will readily recall Harry Every who assumed his duties as boys' work secretary at the association on September 1, 1915. Mr. Every when a boy had been active in the local "Y" and had taken up "Y" work. At the time he was called to take charge of the boys' program at the local "Y" he had been doing similar work with the association in Troy.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

Washington—Footnotes for future historians:

Opening wedge of what might be the political death of the "tux and black tie"—at least at presidential electors' banquets—was hammered home by James H. Hammond, Columbia, S. C., lawyer and one of that state's electors.

Unhappy at the thought of going so formally informal, Mr. Hammond informed the committee that he would not attend in any such garb. In part, Mr. Hammond protested thus: "As Prometheus from his rock, with the moths plucking out its vitals, hangs my tux and tie. To the ambitious waiter, whoever hopes to be the head, I relegate my tux and tie."

"Where has democracy gone in such stringent regulations as tux and tie? All of us have howled Democracy! Liberty! Freedom! and during the campaign there was no mention of tux and black tie."

"The every echo of our opponents still rings back: 'Regimentation—as though they were forewarned of tuxes and ties. Was there a fifth or fifteenth column in our ranks who betrayed to our enemy the advance plans of this banquet, where, all dressed up as 'chorus Johnnies,' we should be lined up in our tuxes and ties?' Under such a flood of indignation, the banquet committee would like a wing collar on a suit, a night and the number of electors who followed Mr. Hammond's bold, but unstarched, front proposal would have been described by Emily Post as "shocking."

Two For One

A lot less frivolous in the matter of smashing precedents is what Senator Tom Connally smilingly described as West Virginia's apparent effort "to make two senators grow where only one grew before."

West Virginia is almost notorious in the matter of providing seats for its senators, but the boys thought up a brand new one this time.

Here's how it happened: Sen. Matthew M. Neely was elected Governor of West Virginia. He was to take office at noon, January 13. Outgoing Governor Homer Holt was to relinquish office when Governor Neely took over. Governor Neely pulled a political fast. He took the oath of office at midnight January 12 and a second later appointed Dr. Joseph Rosier, former president of the National Education Association, to succeed him as senator. Not to be outdone, Governor Holt, who already had appointed Clarence E. Martin, former president of the American Bar Association, to succeed Neely—not once, but in two proclamations—issued a third, dated "a moment after 12, midnight, January 13."

It's No. 6

Five times before in its history as a state, West Virginia has hatched up contests for seats, but Senator Connally's committee admits that the sixth is the all-time noggin itcher. It's up to the committee to make a recommendation and then it's up to the Senate to seat whom it pleases. But what a problem!

What gets me is that although Governor Neely and ex-Governor Holt are reportedly mad as hops at each other, their appointees, who undoubtedly are going to be most personally affected by outcome of the contest, are affectionate cronies and to all outward appearances are having the time of their lives.

They sit together on one of the divans at the back of the Senate chamber. They swap jokes and laugh over each new quip their

"THE VANDERBILT LEGEND,"

by Wayne Andrews.

It would be possible to read Wayne Andrews' "The Vanderbilt Legend" and find the last half of the book as amusing as the first, I suppose. For me the best part (as well as the largest part) concerns the first Cornelius and his fabulous undertakings. Old Cornelius was the perfect type of American capitalist in the 50 years ending in the Eighties, and it is only a proof of this statement that he was far from a perfect man. Highly "successful" American capitalist of that period were rarely examples of piety.

It would also be possible to come out of Mr. Andrews' excellent book hating the ground the old man was buried in. The maul would be more accurate. I could not even do this—he was too interesting.

Everybody knows now the cornerstone of the Vanderbilt millions started his career as a ferryman between Staten Island and New York. And how he built himself, with the help of a ship-owner named Thomas Gibbons, into a minor power in the new ship industry, and went on alone to become our first shipping magnate.

It was his good luck that he lived long enough to take over the railroad business as well, and make the New York Central one of the best paying and most cordially detested roads of its period. But it was not old Cornelius who made the famous "the public be damned" statement—that was his son, William Henry.

Old Cornelius did plenty, however, and did it with a peculiar combination of logic and arrogance that made everybody fear him. Cornelius was accused of everything from stock-jobbing to running unsafe ships. The book says he did such things as this: He founded an Atlantic line which ran only in summer yet put its American rival out of business, he leased ships on fantastic terms to the Civil War government and when turned round and gave them his famous vessel, the "Vanderbilt." Later, it is true, he complained bitterly because the ship was not given back. He bought legislatures, and consulted mediums before his financial coups. He wallpapered the famous Erie ring, and bought a church for his second wife's ministerial choice. He owned fast horses, chartered his children, was naive, cynical, ungrammatical, coarse, shrewd. And a great story, ready-made.

Close Call

Butte, Mont. (AP)—Theodore Cerise was driving toward Butte when along came a car traveling in the opposite direction. The other car hooked Cerise's back bumper and whirled the machine over an embankment that dropped, straight down, 250 feet. End over end plunged the car, to the tinkling of broken glass and crumbling fenders. At last it came to rest at the bottom of the precipice. Then out stepped Cerise, carrying in one hand an unbroken bottle of milk and with only a small scratch on his finger as evidence of his narrow brush with death.

Few People Know That Government Has Been Building Up Incomparable Aircraft Industry

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 23—Few people today doubt that aircraft plays a decisive role in war operations. Yet few people know that the United States, far removed from actual conflict, has been building up an industry for the making of airplanes which is incomparably the best in the world.

Public attention has been focussed on the number of warplanes turned out—a matter controlled wholly by orders and contracts awarded by the army and navy—and not on the skill and know-how which has fortunately been developed in America notwithstanding the fact that the United States was not particularly awake to the needs of rearmament until a year or so ago.

In recent weeks considerable notice has been taken in the press of what the auto industry may do for aviation and this is natural because the mass production methods of the automotive industry are well known throughout the world. But just as too much emphasis has been placed on what the automobile plants can do to make airplanes just so has too little credit been given the aircraft industry which today and will for the next two years bear the brunt of the nation's airplane-making burdens.

Confusion exists generally because mass production is assumed to be possible in aircraft as in automobiles. Yet autos are built in the millions each year whereas airplanes are built only in the thousands. The tools needed to make autos are useless for the making of airplanes. There is no such thing as practical conversion of an auto plant into an airplane factory except in so far as the four walls and the floors are concerned.

What is happening is that the automobile companies are sending their executives to school at plants of the aircraft companies. Such arrangements have been made for the building of aircraft at auto plants amount merely to the copying of existing aircraft factories or the making of needed parts. It is to the aircraft industry the nation must continue to look for large-scale production of airplanes.

Thus it is anticipated that by July 1942 two of the larger plants making airplane engines which have been doing this job for years will turn out from 25,000 to 30,000 engines a year at each plant or a total of about 60,000 engines—enough for the 36,000 airplane program supposed to be completed by then. All the airplane engines to be manufactured by the auto industry by 1942 it is estimated, will not exceed 12,000.

This is no fault of the auto industry, in fact it will be an excellent record entitled to much praise because it is no mean achievement for automobile folks to learn an entirely new business in such a short time. But the nation has seemed in recent weeks to be veering toward the impression that the auto industry would be the principal source of planes and airplane engines and that some-

This chart on braking distance for automobiles as affected by weather conditions is the result of 300 tests made on frozen Lake Cadillac in Michigan and on snow-covered roads. It was prepared under direction of Professor Ralph A. Moyer of Iowa State College, chairman of the committee on winter driving hazards of the National Safety Council. For good treaded tires on ice the distance ranged from 115 feet at near-zero temperature to 220 feet at near-thawing. Actual stopping distances at 20 miles an hour are 22 feet more than each of the average braking distances shown, because, the council points out, it takes the average motorist three-quarters of a second to react and apply brakes after seeing reason to stop.

Helbing Outlines Value of Scouting At Annual Session

that showed that out of every 20 boys and girls attending school, 40 per cent never got beyond the eighth grade and but two got as far as college. "Fit the curriculum to the boy, not the boy to the curriculum," said the speaker. Mr. Helbing expressed his belief in the work being done by the Boy Scout organization. He quoted figures showing that in 1904 68 per cent of those enrolled at West Point had been Boy Scouts and 64 per cent of those at Annapolis had the same record. You will find some former Boy Scouts in prison, said the speaker, but not many.

Dr. H. W. Keator presided at the dinner and welcomed the guests. He thanked the council for the honor of a "third term," but assured them that he had no "lend or lease" policies nor any aspirations to become a "dictator."

Paul Zucca, with Dan Bittner at the piano, led in singing popular songs. The Rev. T. J. Mullins of Ellenville gave the invocation and the Rev. Arthur S. Cole gave the benediction at the close of the program.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of the Silver Beaver award, outstanding Scout award, to three members of the council—Arthur J. Burns of Kingston, Fred S. Van Voorhis of Saugerties and Valentine W. Morrow of Maple Crest.

Mr. Burns has been connected with scouting since 1918 as executive board member, president, treasurer and chairman of the finance committee.

Mr. Van Voorhis, a "scouter" since 1922, has been executive board member, president of the council, chairman of the camping committee and troop committee-man.

Mr. Morrow's scouting dates back to 1923. He has been scoutmaster, chairman of the troop committee and district commissioner.

The awards were made by Sidney K. Clapp of Kingston, Scout commissioner for the Ulster-Greene Council, himself a Silver Beaver "Scouter."

During the evening Dr. Keator reviewed the work for the past year and Scout Executive Burns discussed plans for 1941.

Officers Are Named
At the annual business meeting in the afternoon officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

Dr. H. W. Keator, Kingston, president; C. D. Raymond, Ellenville, Dr. L. H. van den Berg, New Paltz, J. Frank Lackey, Tannersville and R. F. Overbagh, Saugerties, vice-presidents.

Victor H. Roth, Kingston, treasurer.

Sidney K. Clapp, Kingston, scout commissioner.

E. Frank Flanagan, Sam Stern and G. W. Codwise, Kingston, were named members-at-large on the executive board. Joseph M. Fowler, Kingston and Frederick C. Helbing, Coxsack, were named Council members-at-large.

Named chairman of the Council committees were: A. J. Burns, Kingston, finance; Dr. Roland G. Will, New Paltz, training; Fred S. Van Voorhis, Saugerties, camping; Dr. J. B. Krom, Kingston, health and safety; B. C. Van Ingen, Kingston, advancement.

District chairman and representatives, elected in the various districts, were approved and made members of the executive committee, as follows:

Northern—Scott M. Ellis, Greenville, chairman; Dr. Maurice Hammond, Catskill, representative.

Mountain—the Rev. James Russell, Ashland, chairman; George W. Osborn, Windham, representative.

Western—Fred D. Cure, Pine Hill, chairman; W. H. Cruickshank, Big Indian, representative.

Saugerties—Frank W. Mason, Saugerties, chairman; Grant D. Morse, Saugerties, representative.

Kingston—George B. Matthews, Kingston, chairman; Harry Halverson, Kingston, representative.

Southern—H. Karl Ernst, Milton, chairman; Edward L. Dalby, Marlborough, representative.

Rondout Valley—Herman Cohen, Ellenville, chairman; the Rev. T. J. Mullins, Ellenville, representative.

Chicken Goes Home
Wichita, Kas. (AP)—A Wichita man who keeps chickens noticed that one of his hens had a piece of paper caught in her mouth. A man stopped at a small country hotel. Before he went to bed he gave the manager at the desk a $100 bill to put in the safe for him until morning.

The hotel manager was hard pressed for funds and expected a lot of guests the following day. When he called the butcher preparatory to laying in a food supply for his guests the butcher refused to trade with him unless he paid a $100 meat bill.

Knowing that he would take in some money the next day, the manager gave the $100 bill to the butcher and trusted to him by his sleeping guest.

As soon as the meat was delivered the butcher went to the town tailor and straightened out an old debt by giving the $100 to the tailor.

Then the tailor rushed back to the hotel and gave the same bill back to the manager, thus wiping out a score of long standing.

The delighted hotel manager put the $100 bill back into the safe and awaited developments. The next morning the guest came to the desk and claimed it, but as soon as it was handed to him he tore it to shreds.

Hotel Manager (shouting)—Hey, be careful. After all, that's a lot of money you're tearing up.

Guest—Oh, that's all right. The bill was a counterfeit. I just gave it to you to keep to see if you were trustworthy.

The problem that daily torments every man is "Where's the money coming from?"

Magic Spring

By ALLEN EPPES

YESTERDAY: It looks as if Ardendale may get the services of young Dr. Warren McNeill, and several people are glad. David Wiley hopes the doctor can help with his bankrupt old inn and its mineral water swimming pool. Polly Jenkins, David's fiancée, hopes McNeill will interest Margo Powers, and Margo, who has decided to take David away from Polly, is glad to have still another attractive young man about town.

Chapter 20 Swimming Party

DAVID and Polly went to say goodbye to Margo and her father.

Warren McNeill did not go with them.

He stayed where he was, doing a lot of thinking. Polly Jenkins—sweet little thing. Now there, he told himself, was the sort of girl a doctor ought to marry. Small, but strong. Pretty, but possessed of good common sense. Taking care of her cunt, same working as a cashier in a moving picture theatre. Plucky, that's what she was.

Margo saw him standing alone, and came over to him.

"Why that faraway look?" she asked.

"I was thinking," said Warren.

"What about—or is it a professional secret?"

"No, it's no secret, Margo. I was thinking about doctors and their wives—about settling here in Ardendale—about a lot of things."

"Would you really settle here?" said Margo—watching him.

"Yes. Why not?" said Warren.

"I like the people I've met, especially your friends David and Polly. They've got character, they're made of the same sort of stuff that made our ancestors what they were, Margo; yours, mine, David's and Polly's. The country can't go to pot altogether, as long as there are people like David and Polly in it."

"I see," said Margo, not really seeing at all. When Warren got into a serious mood like this, he was almost like a stranger to her.

"They do seem to have made a hit with you." She took his arm.

"Come on, there are some more people I want you to meet."

Warren smiled down into the lovely eyes.

"Did I ever tell you that you're beautiful, Margo?" he said.

"Once or twice."

"Mind if I repeat?"

"Certainly not. A girl never tires of hearing things like that."

"All right—you're beautiful," said Warren. "And I could do with another cup of tea."

Plans
WEDNESDAY afternoon, a magnificent sunset, and four attractive people diving and swimming in the pool out at Freddy's Folly.

Doctor Warren McNeill, slender, splendidly built, and looking extraordinarily youthful in his brief swimming trunks; Margo, in a suit which was perhaps a little too revealing, a bit too sophisticated for Uncle Frederick James Wiley's unfilled dream; David, in a pair of trunks that were faded and darned, but which did not make him appear any less handsome; and Polly, last and least in size though not in importance, wearing a brightly flowered bathing suit that had a tricky little skirt which made her look like a ballet dancer.

Laughter—jokes—and everybody by now using first names!

"I'm getting hungry!" David called out from the pool.

"So'm I!" said Warren.

"All right," said Polly, "Margo and I will go dress. Then we'll unpack the baskets while you two boys get into your clothes."

"Boys!" laughed Warren. "Polly, you make me feel like something just out of high school."

"And you look like something just out of high school," said Margo.

"What, with all these gray hairs?"

"Oh, they're premature," said Polly. "Anyone can tell that."

"Boy, is my ego swelling!" said Warren.

"I've already started a fire in the outdoor oven," David said. "I'll get the coffee started as soon as Warren and I have one more swim."

Polly and Margo ran across the grounds to the Inn.

And while they were dressing in the inn parlor, Warren and David swam the length of the pool a number of times. Then they swung themselves up to the pool's side, and sat there smoking.

"You've got a beautiful layout here, David," Warren said.

"Thank you," David said. "I'm inclined to agree with you, although the place has been a white elephant on the family's hands for a number of years."

"Something ought to be done about it."

"Yes, that's what I think."

"Attractive location—well-built house—this pool. A lot to work with."

"Right!" said David.

Then almost before he realized it, he was telling Warren McNeill about those wishful thinking things he had dreamed over upon his front porch.

"Certainly I don't think any such thing," Warren assured him. "Gosh! That's great. I don't often find anyone who so rapidly agrees with me."

"The whole idea appeals to me no end," Warren went on. "But money! That's the drawback. It usually is, where a doctor is concerned."

"Well, don't think the doctors have a corner on that particular problem," David said. "They haven't."

Warren didn't seem to hear. He went on talking.

"I've got a few thousand dollars my grandfather left me," he was saying. "He was a doctor, and wanted me to learn all the 'new-fangled stunts' he thought the doctor of today had to know. I spent quite a sum traveling around Europe, looking into different branches of the medical profession—and now there's not an awful lot left of my inheritance."

"And you'd better hold on to it," David advised.

"I don't know about that," said Warren. "Anyway, I'm planning to use it to buy out some of the doctor's practice in a growing town—a place like Ardendale."

"But what about those offers from hospitals you mentioned?"

"They'll have to wait a little while. I'm not keen about being shut out between a lot of cold, white walls."

"I reckon hospital work is pretty confining," said David.

"It is," Warren said. "I think I'd much rather work in a town where I can get about more."

Then why not buy out our Doctor Ben's practice? David asked. "He's been talking about retiring for the past five years. You could settle down here, and maybe, if I keep on working at the lumber plant, the two of us could manage to raise the money we need to put Freddy's Folly on the map."

"Darned if that's not a good idea, David!" Warren said. "I'll have a talk with this Doctor Ben."

"Fine! I'll take you to see him tomorrow. How about it?"

"The sooner the better," said Warren. "I've got some pretty good credentials, even if I do say so, as shouldn't."

"And about Peter," said David. "I can't thank you enough for giving him that thorough going-over."

"I'm only sorry I couldn't tell you something encouraging," Warren replied. "I can tell you this, however—the boy's got guts, if you'll pardon the expression. His courage and hope will do him a lot of good."

Magic Spring
"THANKS," said David. "I think he's a pretty swell kid, myself. And I do feel that the leg's improving. It's sun-tanned and tougher-looking, even if it isn't a great deal stronger."

"What did you do with the boy tonight?" Warren asked.

"I thought he might come along with us."

"He's home, reading," said David. "I brought him a new book from the library. Funny little tike, in some ways. He doesn't seem to mind being left alone—self-sufficient, you know. He says he got used to being alone when he lived with his dad, who, from all I can gather, had all sorts of strange jobs; never keeping any one of them very long."

Warren tossed away his half-smoked cigarette.

"I think I shall prolong my stay in Ardendale," he said, "and look the place over thoroughly."

He got up, stood with his legs wide apart, looking up at the Inn. "What a setup for a sanatorium! I certainly would like to swing it."

"So would I," said David. "If we could truthfully advertise the spring water as having a magic touch, as Polly expressed it, we ought to draw quite a patronage."

And if we could prove that the water is beneficial to people like your small cousin, we could do wonders!" said Warren.

David also arose. He stood beside Warren.

"I would give a lot," he said, "to see Peter walking like a normal boy."

"Well, there's nothing like trying to make a dream come true, is there?" said Warren. "I think I'll take a sample of the spring water and have it thoroughly analyzed."

Polly appeared upon the porch. "Stop standing there staring!" she called. "Go get dressed. The supper will be ready in no time."

So came down to them. "Have you got the coffee started yet, David?"

"No," said David. "Warren and I have been too busy talking."

"What about?" Polly asked.

"About making dreams come true," said Warren.

"Come on, Warren," David said. "Let's go stir up the fire, and put the pot on."

They hurried around the end of the Inn, and back to the brick oven which had been built in the rear yard.

Polly picked up the two baskets which she and Margo had packed, and followed them.

Soon after David and Warren had gone in to dress, Margo came out. She helped Polly spread a tablecloth underneath a gnarled apple tree.

"It's fun, isn't it, a party like this?" Polly said, as she went over to have a look at the coffee.

"Yes, it is," said Margo. "This back to nature stuff gives you an opportunity to really get to know a person."

"Meaning Warren?" said Polly.

"Yes," said Margo, "meaning Warren."

Exactly

Once the female locust has laid her eggs, her life mission is done. She flies away and soon dies. In a square yard as many as 50 to 75 separate deposits of eggs are often found, which means that from 5,000 to 7,500 locusts will emerge from a space 36 inches square. The only effective way of destroying the eggs is by ploughing the ground, for once exposed to the air the eggs never hatch.

Listening Post To Spot Spies

80 Highly Sensitive Radio Stations Equipped to Police the Ether.

CHICAGO.—And now it's "electric ears" for government service. In tense times of today the very air waves may be the means whereby spies and saboteurs are getting their messages through to the place they will do America the most harm.

So, under the Federal Communications commission, 80 highly sensitive "listening posts" are being installed throughout the country, and they will be combing the ether 24 hours a day to intercept subversive messages.

Such a post for the Chicago area already has been placed in operation at the Navy pier. Every state in the Union will have at least one "listening post," and densely populated states will have two or more under the present FCC plans.

Call for Operators.
These posts, technically known as "secondary base monitoring stations" form one link in the new and closely knit co-operative program between the FCC, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the army and navy intelligence departments.

Two hundred and fifty radio engineers and a like number of operators from private broadcasting stations and amateur ranks have been invited to file applications with the commission for positions manning the monitoring stations unceasingly.

Officials said the newly created defense section of the FCC, under which this work comes, will be entirely separate from the normal operations of the commission. The normal functions involve radio station inspections, handling of operators' licenses and ship equipment clearances.

Each station is being furnished with one mobile unit, fitted into a large sedan, for tracking down unauthorized radio transmitters.

Record Messages.
Cars are equipped with cylinder-type recorders, two radio receivers that cover the entire ether spectrum including ultrahigh frequencies, a direction finder with portable loop antenna, 30-watt frequency modulation type transmitters and devices to permit communication between all cars.

Recording equipment will be utilized to preserve on wax cylinders for analysis by intelligence agents all unauthorized broadcasts of a subversive or doubtful character, officials stated.

Most of the base stations are being located on federal military reservations or on leased farms, usually on the outskirts of cities, to allow privacy of movement to operating crews, space for antenna and a minimum noise level.

Each "listening post" will be in charge of a monitoring officer having a civil service rating and paid $3,200 annually. Assistants will be paid $2,600, while first class radio operators will receive $1,800 and second class, $1,620 a year.

Licensed "hams," or amateurs, are eligible to apply for operators' appointments, as are licensed commercial operators, but each must prove his unquestionable loyalty to the nation, officials declared.

Indian Drafts Fear

Loss of Long Hair Braids

GRAND RAPIDS.—Mayor George Welsh has been asked to intercede for a tribe of Indians at Taos, N. M., so that when its members are conscripted they won't lose their long braids and their chance to go to the Happy Hunting Ground.

Welsh, who on visits to New Mexico became friendly with the Indians and invited them to visit here, received a letter from a rancher representing the tribe.

The letter sets forth that long hair is an essential part of the religion of the Taos tribe. Tribesmen are ready to serve their country, the letter said, but hope for special dispensation regarding army regulations which make the "bean shave" a part of the military scheme.

Dog That Can Say 'Mama'

Described by Novelist

NEW YORK.—A dog that can say "mama" was described by Zsolt Harsanyi, Hungarian novelist, in the current issue of the Hungarian Quarterly published by the Columbia University Press.

The dog, of a breed known as Puli, answered "mama" in a low, happy tone when asked the question: "Who is it that gives you food?" Harsanyi wrote. The dog, he said, was made to repeat the performance several times and each time he pronounced the word distinctly, shaping his lips like a human being.

Queer Marriage Ends

For Ex-British Soldier

CLEVELAND.—A one-time British soldier has won a divorce from the mother of the sweetheart he lost 17 years ago.

When Fred Prior, 39, returned from India his fiancée was married, so he took the hand of her mother. When the mother insisted that she and Prior live with her daughter, it became too much for the India campaigner and he came to America. His wife refused to follow.

Ithaca, N. Y.—Although 1941 looks promising, potato and vegetable growers face problems not unlike those of World War I, according to Dr. M. C. Bond of the department of agricultural economics at Cornell University. Efficient use of time and the keeping of hired help, especially men that can use machines are among the problems, he says.

Reclaimed Land Is Rich in Minerals

Levees Transform Delta Into Blooming Gardens.

POINT A LA PACHE, LA.—Five thousand acres of rich Mississippi river delta land below here is being reclaimed to produce an estimated 30,000 freight carloads of produce annually.

Backers of the project, the Bureau of Reclamation, declare that 5,000 acres will grow vegetables of finer substance than much of the produce grown in the Rio Grande valley of Texas, and that the area also will be ideal for citrus fruit growing.

The reclaimed land is a rectangular plot paralleling the Mississippi river's western bank. It runs from Port Sulphur a distance of about 12 miles down river to Buras, near the tip of the delta. It lies between two levees, that protecting river lands from the Mississippi on one side and a newly built storm protection levee on the other which prevents the ground being struck by tidal overflows from the Gulf of Mexico.

This land heretofore has been inundated more by backwaters of the gulf than by the Mississippi. But now a string of powerful pumping stations has been installed to force the waters from the inland-most points down to the tidal protection levees, over them and into the gulf.

That system, which will operate continually, consists of the pumping stations, huge lines of concrete pipes, and wide and deep drainage ditches, all pushing the waters off the delta lands and into the gulf.

Soil experts and officials of the drainage district say the reclaimed lands contain minerals valuable for rapid growth of vegetables.

Wine Storekeeper Finds War Ruins His Business

COLUMBUS—"I can't fight the whole of Europe, I surrender," exclaimed Byron Goldsmith, several thousand miles away from military hostilities as he closed up his Columbus wine store.

First came the Spanish civil war. Columbus citizens took sides and Spanish wines were boycotted. The public boycott was extended to Rhine wines when Hitler began to march.

Italy entered the war and people shunned Goldsmith's Italian wines. Italy blockaded Greece and stopped exports of Grecian wines.

Then no Hungarian, no French and very little Portuguese wine came to Goldsmith's store. So he closed it, "victim" of "unsettled international conditions."

The largest gain in telephones in service ever to be recorded in a single year—940,000—is put down to the credit of 1940, and with it the distinction of bringing the total number of telephones in service in the system to a new high of more than 17,465,000. For purposes of comparison, the gain in 1939 was 775,000.

Ernest C. Renn Is Seriously Injured

Struck by Automobile in Long Beach, Calif.

Friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Renn, 106 E. Chester street, this city, were shocked at the recent news that Mr. Renn had been hit by an automobile in Long Beach, Calif., and seriously injured, on Christmas night.

Mr. and Mrs. Renn left for California on December 20, to spend the holidays with their daughter, Miss Edna Renn, and had only been there one day when the accident occurred. Mr. Renn sustained two compound fractures of the left leg, a slight fracture of the left elbow, and a scalp wound requiring stitches and which caused a slight concussion, as well as other minor cuts and abrasions about the face, head and hands.

At the time of the accident, two blood transfusions were necessary. He is under the care of Dr. Steller and Dr. Bishop of Long Beach.

and was in the Seaside Hospital until recently, when he was moved to Whittier, Calif., where his daughter resides.

Mr. and Mrs. Renn and their daughter and a party of friends were returning to Whittier after spending Christmas Day with friends in San Diego, and stopped in Long Beach where Mr. Renn went into a store to make a purchase. On returning to the car he was struck by an automobile which, it is alleged, failed to stop at the intersection.

Mr. Renn is now reported to be well on the way to recovery, and hopes to be able to make the trip back to Kingston by the end of this month with permission of his doctors.

Island Trade Goes On

Honolulu (A.P.)—Normal trade has been resumed between Australia and New Zealand and the French island possessions in the Pacific, according to advices to British Consul F. A. Wallis. He said he understood British vessels were given assurance they would not be molested by French colonial authorities.

Draft-Resister Dies of Wounds

Rural Illinois Is Scene of Battle in Which Four Are Shot

Pontiac, Ill., Jan. 23 (A.P.)—Ernest R. Eisele, 22-year-old farm youth, died today from wounds suffered while resisting arrest on a charge of evading the draft.

His father, Martin Eisele, who was shot three times in a gun and knife fight with two law officers, remained in a critical condition.

All four participants in yesterday's affray at the Eisele farm home at nearby Rook's Creek village were taken to the same hospital here.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Eugene Ahrends, 45, of Peoria, was stabbed in the neck and forehead. Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert Jones of Livingston county, suffered stab wounds in the neck, face and side. Attendants at St. James Hospital reported their wounds as severe but not critical.

The deputy marshal appeared at the farm home with a federal warrant for the arrest of young Eisele on a charge of failure to register for Selective Service. He and Officer Jones said that the Eiseles suddenly drew pocket knives and set upon them. The officers said they pulled their guns and began firing after all had fallen to the floor in the struggle. The son was wounded in the stomach and hip.

Residents of the small community said the elder Eisele had protested a draft board order for his son's registration on the ground that his son could not be spared from the farm chores in the event he were drafted.

Assistant U. S. Attorney G. E. Kennedy of Peoria said that a federal investigator had been told by the farm youth: "When war breaks out I'll enlist, but until that time what I do is my own business and they can't make me register."

Soviet Aid To British Is Desired

U. S. Has Seemed to Take Up Where Britain Left Off in Promoting Good Will

Reds Hold Balance

Soviet Has the Balance of Power in Europe's Dispute

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The lifting of our "moral embargo" against Russia, with the idea of improving relations between Washington and Moscow, has set tongues wagging as to whether it also is calculated to erect a barrier between the Soviet and the triple alliance—Germany, Italy and Japan.

This speculation is natural for two reasons. One is that there are few ways in which the United States could render Britain greater aid in the war against the three musketeers than to swing the Soviet into the Anglo-American camp. The other is the rift within the Japanese-American lute, and the efforts of Tokyo to bolster its position by making friends with Russia.

It is an interesting circumstance that the day before Washington made its friendly gesture toward Moscow, the British government informed Parliament that efforts to improve relations with the Soviet had been at a standstill since October 22. It was added that the next move was up to the Muscovites.

Hostility to Russia

One reason for the hitch, in my view, is that there is a very considerable hostility to Russia among conservative Britons because of fear of Communism. They refuse to accept the Soviet claim that Communism is the highest form of democracy, but view it as a subversive influence which has been trying to sabotage the British government since the early days of Bolshevism when Russian imperial jewels were sold to provide funds for missionary work in Britain.

The same day that the Anglo-Russian hitch was announced, the British government also banned the Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker. The paper was accused of "systematic publication calculated to foment opposition to prosecution of the war to a successful issue."

Just to round out the picture, the Soviet yesterday reaffirmed its policy of neutrality. This is to be insured "by indefatigable strengthening of the economic and defense capacity of the country."

Holds Balance of Power

Russia may be said to hold the balance of power in the European dispute. That's why both sides are trying to gain her support. We don't know the extent of present day Russia's strength. Indeed, it's a safe bet that Stalin himself doesn't know it, because it never has been put to a real test. However, its potential resources are vast. It is stronger industrially and probably militarily than was Czarist Russia in the last war. What more the people would show in another conflict is an unknown quantity.

Apart from their political differences, Russia and Britain are natural allies. Both have vast interests in Europe and Asia. Their strategic posts of empire run side by side from Europe right through to the Far East.

As allies they would be a powerful combination. As enemies they would find more hostile points of contact than two quarrelsome porcupines.

From London's viewpoint Russia could threaten Britain's domination of the eastern Mediterranean through virtual control of the Dardanelles. The Soviet sits over Iran (Persia). Iraq with its vast oil supplies, and the Persian Gulf. Russia has in the past threatened India, and has a big thumb in the Chinese pie, to which John Bull likes to play Jack Horner.

But there are British interests of more immediate importance than those. From the military standpoint we get these points: Russia as an ally would tend to remove the Japanese pressure and menace in the Far East.

In the European theatre the question may arise as to whether Britain can hope to win a decisive victory over the Nazis unless Germany is blockaded on her eastern frontier. Russian aid might be vital in this operation.

Then, of course, Russia's vast man-power, great air fleet and mechanized equipment would be an invaluable asset.

Poughkeepsie Knitters Are Entertained in City

Mrs. James Nekos of Emerson street, was hostess yesterday to this group of women from Poughkeepsie who are spending their spare time knitting articles of clothing for shipment to Greece. The Poughkeepsie knitting society was organized late in November with 15 members. Since that time the club has grown to a membership of 35 ladies who meet twice a week and spend the afternoon and evening making sweaters. In the short time the club has been in existence it has shipped to Greece more than 90 sweaters and is now at work on a second shipment. The Poughkeepsie Red Cross supplies the material. It is planned to organize a similar club in Kingston it was reported at the meeting last evening. Many in Kingston have been knitting for Greece independently but no organization with regular meetings has been formed to date. In the above group, seated left to right, are Mrs. S. A. Frank, Mrs. Louis G. Kustas, assistant chairman of the Poughkeepsie group; Mrs. Louis P. Maroulis, chairman and secretary of the Dutchess County Greek War Relief Committee; Mrs. James Nekos, hostess, and Mrs. Peter Chambers. Standing in the same order are Mrs. J. Christakos, Mrs. George Kustas, Mrs. Gus Blizioti, Mrs. A. G. Papastrat, Mrs. A. Kalliche, Mrs. Nicholas Pertesis, and Mrs. Nicholas Panagiotakis. All in the group except Mrs. Nekos are of Poughkeepsie.

Lehman Sees Need of U. S. Action For Raid Shelters, Evacuations

War Nerves Conquer Boy

Jittery Cabin Boy Dives Overboard

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—War nerves got the best of a 16-year-old British messboy on the Barber Line freighter Troja today.

For days, Capt. William Gutterormsen said, Wilfred Wilkerson had refused to eat. At night he couldn't sleep and paced the deck of the vessel at a Brooklyn dock.

His one thought was of his parents and relatives back in Sowerby Bridge, Hull, England.

"Have they been killed? Have the bombs got them?" He frequently asked his captain who tried to console him, tried to get him to eat and sleep and have a little fun.

But Wilfred wouldn't listen. He was sick, jumpy, a bundle of nerves. Early today as Frank Hunt paced the rain-swept decks of the Troja on tour as watchman and glanced only occasionally over the waterfront, he turned sharply at the sound of a cabin door opening.

A boy dashed onto the deck, ran past the watchman and shouted "Good-bye, I'm going."

The youth was Wilfred Wilkerson, the homesick victim of war nerves. As he shouted his farewell he disappeared over the side of the Troja and found relief for his troubled mind in the icy water.

Police later recovered the body which was identified by Capt. Gutterormsen.

Governor Is Satisfied With State Progress; Does Not Think Raids Imminent

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 23 (AP)—Governor Lehman, while expressing "very great satisfaction" with progress of New York's defense program, saw need today of federal direction of air raid shelter construction and training in evacuation of cities.

In an interview after his return from President Roosevelt's inauguration and conferences with Secretary of War Stimson and William S. Knudsen, defense production director, the governor added, however, he did not believe events necessitating such precautions are "imminent."

"I believe, though, this project should be studied now," he said. "We should benefit by the experience of England and France."

Direction of air raid shelter construction, training of city residents in evacuation of their homes and also in fighting fire caused by incendiary bombs should be up to the federal government, he said, because "the localities know nothing about it."

Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, introduced a bill for creation of a state aviation division to promote and coordinate civil and military aviation.

"Vulnerability of New York state to attack," he said, "makes it imperative that a permanent aviation program be prepared for this state in conjunction with federal air expansion activities."

Senator Daniel Guttman and Assemblyman Robert F. Wagner, New York city Democrats, submitted bills calling for compulsory health insurance providing medical care for persons earning $1,500 a year or less. They cited numerous rejections of physically unfit draftees as evidence of need for such legislation.

Disability benefits under the bill would range from $6 a week for an employee earning less than $15 weekly and without dependents, to $16 a week for the worker whose weekly salary is $25 or more and with three or more dependents.

Payments would be made from a health insurance fund built up on weekly contributions of employees, employers and the state. A 15-member board in the State Health Department would administer the proposed law.

Nearly 1,000 retail food shops throughout Germany have just been equipped with refrigeration cabinets for frosted foods.

wasn't a sissy." Now his tall, lean, solid frame convinces the most casual onlooker that he isn't.

His appearance here caused quite a commotion as "city folk are all the time gawking and asking silly questions. 'But they'll get used to it,' he observed. 'I did.'"

He might have added: "If the army is willing."

Three Are Injured When Car Slides On Icy Pavement

Occupants of Auto Given First Aid at Kingston Hospital; Trucks Stalled by Ice

Rain that froze as fast as it fell left the streets and sidewalks a glare of ice Wednesday night and resulted in one auto accident in which three persons were injured when the car they were riding in skidded on the icy pavement and crashed into a tree in front of 109 Hone street.

The car, according to the police report, was being operated by Clyde Relyea of 61 Prospect street, who suffered lacerations; Miss Dorothy Swart of 127 Prospect street, who was cut about the lips and had three teeth broken, and Miss Rita Geuss of 16 Hunter street, who suffered a back injury. All three persons were treated at the Kingston Hospital.

According to the police report the car was turning from McEntee street into Hone street when it skidded on the icy pavement. The accident occurred shortly after 10 o'clock last night.

The Board of Public Works as soon as reports were received of the icy condition of the streets ordered out eight trucks loaded with sand and a crew of 20 men who worked all night.

The Wurts street hill was such a glare of ice that a number of big trucks did not attempt to ascend or descend the hill until it had been sanded. The trucks southbound halted at the top of the hill and a line of trucks extended out McEntee street to Broadway. Northbound trucks halted at the top of the Port Ewen hill until the approach to the bridge was sanded.

The sanding crews of the public works board sanded all of the hills in the city as well as dangerous street intersections.

ESOPUS

Esopus, Jan. 23—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Johnson are spending their winter vacation by touring the country.

The Esopus Fire Department was called out Monday evening to the home of Percy Mott to extinguish a small firebreak caused by an oil burner.

The Rev. and Mrs. T. W. B. Magan will hold open house for the workers at the Wiltwyck School every Wednesday, starting Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eastman of Hartford, Conn., spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osberg, parents of Mrs. Eastman. Caroline Virginia Eastman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eastman, was spending a few weeks with her grandparents when her parents came to take her home.

William Jamn of Westwood, N. J., a former resident of Esopus, is now in the Holy Name Hospital at Teaneck, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Smith and son of West Park are spending the winter in Florida. The Young People's Society of West Park will hold a dance February 14.

Court Turns Down Tartakoff's Bid To Review Order

Appeals Court Will Not Compel New York City to Accept Notice From Order

The court of appeals in a recent memorandum denied the application of Boris and Fannie Tartakoff for a review of the order of the appellate division denying their motion to compel the city of New York to accept a notice of appeal from the order confirming an award of $18,500 to them and the taking of parcel 1300 in section 7 of the Delaware condemnation proceedings.

This particular litigation arose after an order of Justice Russell which confirmed an award of Commissioners Mark M. MacLay, M. Michael Dobris and Ross K. Osterhoudt. Subsequent to the time for an appeal to be taken, Robert K. Story, Jr., served a notice of appeal which was rejected by the New York city corporation counsel's office as not complying with the statute.

Story's Contentions

Mr. Story contended that an order of confirmation must be served personally on the claimants and not upon their attorney, that there was no notice of entry of the order endorsed upon the copy served on the claimants' prior attorney, that if a notice of entry was endorsed upon the order that it was defective since no addressee was upon it, that the notice of appeal was not properly rejected by the city of New York.

The city of New York rebutted these positions and maintained that service of the order on claimants' attorney was proper and that a legally sufficient notice of entry was endorsed upon the order.

Denial of the application to appeal as handed down by the court of appeals precludes further action by the claimant and apparently the claimant, "Tartakoff, will now be compelled to accept the $18,500 for the farm and boarding house property near Lackawack which was taken by the city of New York for the present water works project."

Robert K. Story, Jr., appeared for the claimant in the appellate division and court of appeals, while Henry R. Bright and Vincent G. Connelly represented the city of New York.

Ontario Philatral Group Holds Meeting in City

Eleven members of the Ontario Philatral Society of the Hudson valley were the guests at the monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Rodport Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening when they exhibited their home-made telescopes while Edward Jones of Catskill delivered an interesting lecture on astronomy.

The Philatral Society has been organized about two years. Clifford Story of Catskill is president and George Hill of Catskill is secretary. The other members of the club who were present were Walter Powell, Francis Ford and Madison Ford of Kingston; Earl Smith, George Hill, William Walker, of Catskill; Charles Westfield of Port Jervis; Nelson West of East Jewett, and Carl Wille of Lake Katrine.

An interesting demonstration of the art of grinding lenses was also given by President Story of the club.

It was the annual Ladies' Night of the Men's Club and a number of ladies were present. At the close of the entertainment refreshments were served.

Injured in Fall

Scott O. Vining of Port Ewen fell while skating Wednesday at Crystal Pond, near Port Ewen, and according to Dr. S. Till, who was summoned, suffered a slight concussion. This morning his condition was reported as improved but he will be under the care of Dr. G. W. Ross, family physician, for a time. Mr. Vining, a member of the firm of Vining & Smith, had gone skating with his children when he fell.

To Give Show

An old time vaudeville show will be given at the parish hall, Phoenixia, on Saturday evening. It will be in modern dress and modern style with local talent. The show is for the benefit of St. Francis de Sales parish, under the direction of James Coots, formerly of "Gang Busters" on the radio.

476 Registrants Sent Home by State Boards

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 23 (AP)—State selective service headquarters announced today 476 rejections among 2,569 registrants delivered by local boards outside New York city under second training call quotas January 6-17.

The rejections present 18.47 per cent of the men delivered, against 19.95 per cent in the first call last November and December.

Replacements for 279 draftees rejected January 6-10 will report next week to 111 local boards outside New York city. The Albany induction station will receive substitutes Monday through Thursday, and Buffalo and Syracuse stations each day through Friday.

Men reporting to New York stations will be inducted Monday.

Acc German Flier Is Among Prisoners In Canadian Camps

Noted Pilot, 25, Might Be Major Helmuth Wick, Richtofen Commander; Captured in Anglia

An East Canadian Port, Jan. 23 (AP)—A top-rank German air ace and hundreds of other war prisoners rolled westward toward Canadian internment camps today following the recapture of one or two who broke away after their prison ship docked.

The escapes were disclosed shortly after the captive fliers and seaman had debarked to waiting special trains last night. One was recaptured early today and patrols searched the dock area for the other.

Police announced the presence among the prisoners of a noted 25-year-old Nazi fighter pilot credited with downing 56 planes, beginning with the Spanish civil war.

Official identification of prisoners is forbidden under war regulations, but the description, together with the captive's possession of the Iron Cross with Oak Leaves—highest Nazi military award of its kind—coincided with that of Major Helmuth Wick, commander of the famous Richtofen squadron.

(Wick was shot down by a British fighter over the English channel. A German communique December 4, reporting his failure to return, said the Nazi air force had lost "one of its most audacious and successful pursuit pilots." Fellow pilots reported he descended by parachute to the sea off the Isle of Wight just after bagging his 56th plane.)

Internment officers said the shipment of prisoners included a majority of the Nazi fliers shot down and captured in Britain up to the time the ship sailed, as well as sailors taken from German submarines.

One prisoner was said to be the commander of the submarine which torpedoed and sank the liner Empress of Britain after she was attacked by German bombers in the North Atlantic last autumn.

The captives will be sent to two prison camps which have not been used heretofore, officials said.

Three New Paltz Farmers Receive Honors at Albany

Governor Sees Stabilized Milk Industry Great Aid to Defense; May Vote Plan

Three New Paltz farmers were among nine granted citations last night by the State Agricultural Society at its 109th annual meeting in Albany.

The honors to these farmers came because their lands in New York State have been in their families for more than 100 years. Those from New Paltz cited are: Solomon LeFevre, Raymond V. O. DuBois and David J. DuBois. Others named are: Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Fowler, Millbrook; William and Edith Giddings, Baldwinsville and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Topping, Sagaponack, L. I.

Governor Herbert H. Lehman, according to the Associated Press, regards maintenance of the stability in New York's two-billion dollar dairy industry at whatever "sacrifice individual interest would demand" as a first-line contribution to national defense.

"Any disturbance," continued the Governor, would be a "luxury we cannot afford."

The governor recently told Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard in a Washington conference suspension of the federal marketing order governing the New York city milk market, now set for February 28, would bring "chaos and confusion" to the industry.

The society elected former state Senator Leigh Kirkland, Fredonia, president, succeeding Halsey E. Knapp, Nassau county.

The Agriculture Department at Washington was reported reliably today to be considering plans for another referendum in the New York milkshed before Secretary Wickard's order suspending the federal milk marketing program there becomes effective on February 28, the Associated Press reports.

The secretary ordered the program suspended after Associate Justice Jennings Bailey in district court enjoined Wickard from conducting a referendum January 21 on amendments to the order.

Posts Replaced

The heavy posts and guard rails at the John street parking grounds which had been in bad condition for some time are being replaced by employees of the Ulster County Highway Department. New posts and guard rails will protect the iron fence which encloses the property. During the past summer the parking grounds were top-dressed and put in good shape under the direction of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association which operates the county owned park.

Temple Emanuel Services

Services will be held in Temple Emanuel on Friday evening, January 24, at 7:45 o'clock. Saturday morning service will be conducted by the children at 10 a. m. The usual Sunday school session will be held at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

The captives will be sent to two prison camps which have not been used heretofore, officials said.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)
Student Paradise

Berkeley, Calif.—Fifteen hundred University of California students jammed South Hall to enroll in Prof. Frederic L. Paxton's new course in American civilization.

Four students fainted in the rush. Police were called to help maintain order. Finally, the class was transferred to the two largest lecture rooms on the campus. The rooms are linked by a public address system.

Popular? Of course. No examinations will be given. Credit will be based solely upon attendance.

Flunked

Denver—A young man walked a white line for a sobriety test in Police Surgeon W. T. Daniels' office.

The line ended at a glass-windowed door. The man didn't stop. After the glass was swept up, he was jailed for intoxication.

Next—Charge Firemen for Water
Alton, Ill.—Policemen in this Mississippi river city are faced with the prospect of paying $45 monthly for permission to carry guns.

The city council, told of a threatened fund shortage, passed an ordinance providing a minimum wage of $175 a month for policemen as required by state law.

But—officers are directed to "kick back" $45 for gun permits. This procedure, said Corporation Counsel K. K. Hoaglan, would enable the city to live up to the letter of the law and still remain solvent.

Legislators Rattled

Bismarck, N. D.—Representative Dan Panko almost panicked the house of the North Dakota Legislature by bringing a case of rattlesnakes onto the floor and even hauling a few out of their prison.

His pet idea is to rid the state of the reptiles by paying a bounty on them and he wanted to impress the house in favor of his proposal seeking $10,000 for that purpose.

Baked Beans With Meat Balls Pleases the Men

Substantial Dish Made Quickly With Prepared Oven-Baked Beans

By FRANCES PECK

IF YOU ARE looking for a dish that will please the men, here is just the thing—Baked Beans with Barbecued Meat Balls. A robust dish if there ever was one bearing a wealth of good flavor. You will want to serve it when your husband brings the boss home for dinner or when his bachelor friend comes in to see what home life is really like.

You can serve it without a lot of hustle and bustle if you use prepared oven-baked beans. The oven-baked mealiness of them and the carefully mixed sauces make them taste just like the old-fashioned kind Grandmother used to make, and no doubt, the men will

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon mace
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
3 tablespoons butter, melted
2/3 cup shelled, chopped roasted peanuts
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup milk

Mix the ingredients and beat. Roughly pile into a buttered baking dish and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

Stuffed Peaches
4 halves peaches
1/4 cup honey
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter
1/4 teaspoon salt

Place peaches in a shallow buttered pan. Stuff peaches with honey and lemon juice. Add rest of ingredients and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve warm as garnish.

Fruit Meringue Dessert
2/3 cup granulated sugar
1/3 cup flour

Reports Submitted at Annual Meeting of Boy Scout Council

Reports of Ulster-Greene Council for 1940 were submitted at the annual meeting held Wednesday evening. Following are extracts from the reports:

Bound reports of the various officers and committee chairmen of the Ulster-Greene Council, in mimeographed form, were distributed to those attending the annual meeting and dinner. This custom has been followed now for several years past and has numerous advantages, one being that more time is given at the dinner for discussions and other matters. The first of these reports is that of the president of the Council, Dr. Henry W. Keator. It is as follows:

President's Report

In rendering to the Ulster-Greene Council my report for the year 1940, I should like to include, for the sake of comparison, some of the facts contained in my report of last year, not only to refresh our memory, but also to give us a clearer picture of our needs for the coming year and the future.

	Jan. 1939	Jan. 1940	Jan. 1941
Troops	44	49	52
Scouts	844	946	1044
Scouts	841	964	1044
Recruited	334	446	426
Dropped	262	326	346

3,500 boys in the area. Last January I told you that our goal for the year would be 56 troops with 1,070 boys. We have failed to make it. I also told you that we should be reaching two out of every four boys in the Council area. While we are reaching a higher percentage of boys than in 1938, we still are reaching only 1 1/2 boys out of 4. National surveys have shown that 3 out of 4 boys want Scouting. The above comparison shows that we are growing faster in membership than in troops, with the result that the troops are getting overloaded.

May I again remind you that our most urgent problem is sponsorship and leadership. 346 boys dropped the past year is just too bad, and it seems to me that each case should be investigated and an effort be made on the part of all of us to give these boys a program which will keep them interested and enthusiastic.

In the Ulster-Greene area there are 60 communities of 200 or more population. 33 of these have troops. 22 of the remaining 27 communities should have at least one troop, and there is room for seven more troops in the communities which already have them. That means that we have the possibility of organizing 29 more troops. This possibility could be converted into a certainty if we, who are leaders in Scouting, would do more toward securing sponsorship and leadership.

The movement in our Council has grown to such proportions that we have reached a point where our present executive force cannot properly service further growth and we must shortly consider the necessity for an enlarged personnel, or be content with our present status.

This report speaks for itself. We are beginning to see our way to a balanced budget, a restoration of credit, and a return of community good will. May I thank all of our workers for their splendid efforts and fine cooperation with our Council finance committee.

Our leaders training course last year produced gratifying results. The average attendance was 62, and 45 certificates were awarded. This year we are planning another course, during which, in addition to reviewing the Elements of Scoutmastering I-II-III, taught last year, will be added principles of Scoutmastering, Troop Camping, and Health and Safety.

Last year a plan was worked out whereby boys of limited means could be afforded the privilege of one week in camp. We are pleased to report that 20 boys took advantage of the plan. We are assuming our obligation in the National Defense Program. Already our Roll Call has been completed, and Emergency Crews have been formed in Troops No. 3, 6, 12, 20 and 26, which will be organized into Emergency Corps. The Northern District has already organized its corps. Scouting is rapidly coming into greater national prominence through preparations for national defense, and already our Eagles who have enlisted are getting promotion in rank, and positions of greater responsibility and trust. We may rest assured that they will "Be Prepared" to do their part in saving America for Democracy.

We are still one of the 16 councils in the national area without Cubbing. Last year we thought we were on the way, but were disappointed. We now have our committee with its chairman, and are hopeful of doing some things for the Cubs this year.

May I thank my co-workers for their encouragement, cooperation, and helpful suggestions during the past year, and express the hope and conviction that 1941 will be our banner year for the Ulster-Greene Council.

Treasurer's Report

Victor Roth, treasurer, made the following report on finances of the Council, covering the fiscal year October 1, 1939 to September 30, 1940:

	Operating Budget	Expense
Executive Salary	2,900	2,850.00
Office Salary	1,000	1,000.00
Retirement fund	215	225.67
Office rent & Tel.	475	412.55
Office Supplies	250	97.16
Postage	185	126.78
Transportation	750	750.00
Camping	350	408.56
Awards	250	396.28
Training & Con.	100	40.58
Camporee, Rallies	110	37.95
National Quota and Charter Fee	250	250.00
Campaign Cost	400	337.04

Interest on Note . 96 83.57
Miscellaneous . . . . . 50

$7,381 $6,984.14

The Council on October 1, 1939 was $4,247.80 in debt. We raised in the campaign $7,856.00 and from the sale of the Camp Mikanakawa received $800.00, which enabled us to close the year with our debt reduced to $3,004.78. In the 1940 Campaign we raised $8,665.59 which will enable us to operate on our budget of $7,415, and reduce the debt by $1,250, or possibly more. Thus we should be on October 1, 1941 not more than $1,650 in debt. The finance committee plans to liquidate this from the funds to be raised in the 1941 campaign.

Camping and Activities

Fred S. Van Voorhis, reported for the camping and activities committee. The report shows that the 1940 camp showed an increase over 1939, but was considerably under 1938. Figures for the past five years show:

	1936	1937	1938	1939	1940
No. different Scouts	134	97	150	97	114
No. Troops represented	28	20	28	25	24
No. boy week units	209	165	232	163	204
Per cent of membership in camp	19.1	13.5	27.8	11.4	11.

Training Committee

Roland G. Will, chairman of the Leadership Training Committee, reported that the Ulster-Greene Council held the Elements of Scoutmastering Training Course, parts I, II and III, during 1940 and for the first time in the history of the Council brought all the men from the seven Districts to Kingston for this course. This was a new venture and your committee was most gratified with the results. There was an average attendance of 60 men and 45 men received certificates for completing the course.

Health and Safety

Dr. J. E. Krom, chairman reported for the Health and Safety Committee: This committee has carried out the following program during 1940: Physical examination for every Scout as he joins a Troop. Scout physical examination for every Scout going to camp and a check-up on his arrival at camp. Made a health and safety inspection of the camp while it was operating.

Urged all troops to use special care in transporting Scouts to scout events.

Checked the Scouts and Leaders at the Camporee and made sure that all health and safety requirements were maintained.

Advancement Committee

B. C. VanLingen, chairman of the advancement committee notes that scouts in the Council have continued to increase in advancements during 1940; that each district has an active chairman who sees that regular courts of honor are held as need arises and that impressive ceremonies characterize the courts of honor.

Awards earned during 1940, with previous years for comparison, are listed as follows:

	1938	1937	1936	1935	1934
Rank	229	290	305	411	379
Tenderfoot	101	109	226	253	161
Second Class	53	48	92	98	105
First Class	28	37	84	75	29
Star	9	12	33	44	61
Eagle	7	6	14	12	26
Eagle Palms	2	3	6	10	22
Merit Badges	512	519	1061	1430	1810

Continued the present advancement procedure.

Have each District secure an adequate list of merit badge Councilors.

Health and Safety Committee: Continue the present plan of physical examinations.

Inspection of Troop meeting rooms.

Inspect all campsites used by Scouts in the Council.

Training Scout Leaders in Health and Safety practices.

Organize and train Emergency Corps.

Finance Committee: Develop adequate Budget, and raise this budget.

Continue the present program of reducing our indebtedness so that by 1942 we may be free of debt.

Check all financial procedure of the Council frequently.

Authorize the audit of the Council records at least once a year.

I feel that we have made a start in carrying out the recommendations that were given to us by the Regional Office a year ago and with this recheck of these objectives we can continue to carry out this plan which was adopted by the Executive Board in 1940. There is much to be done but we have a guide to help us and with the cooperation of every Scout and Scoutmaster of this Council we can reach our objective.

I have enjoyed serving as your Executive during the past two years and am looking forward to the work for 1941 knowing that with your help and cooperation we can have another fine year of Scouting together.

Lieut.-Col. Marsh Reported Gaining At Columbus, Ga.

Lieut. Col. Raymond Marsh has been removed from Thomaston, Ga., where he was injured critically in an auto accident on Sunday, to the Fort Benning Hospital, Columbus, Ga., where he is expected to recover although he will be confined to his bed for some time, it was learned today.

The body of John Marsh, 17, his son, who was killed in the accident, was brought to Kingston late Wednesday afternoon and buried in Montrose cemetery.

Lieut. Col. Marsh's other son, Raymond, Jr., who was riding in the back seat of the auto, escaped serious injury.

At the time of the accident Lieut. Col. Marsh was driving his son, John, back to the military school where he was a student.

Lieut. Col. Marsh suffered a broken jaw, both legs were broken and his left forearm, while he suffered a slight concussion.

Lieut. Col. Marsh is a former resident of Kingston and is a graduate of West Point, and has served with the regular army since his graduation. He is stationed at Fort Benning.

New Houston Industry

Houston, Tex. (AP)—This city has launched its first ocean-going tanker, a sleek, all-steel, 212-foot ship valued at $246,000. It was built by the Plater Boat Works of Houston for Saco, oil firm of Lisbon, Portugal.

Too Much Mistrust in Landlord, Tenant Deals

As a rule there is no co-operation between landlord and tenant. There is too often mistrust and friction, says a recent editorial in Real Estate News, titled "The Landlord and His Tenant."

When lean years come the tenant wants his lease modified and his rent reduced. When abnormally large business swells his profits he chuckles gleefully, because he is putting it over on the landlord.

This is not a healthy condition. It gives rise to irritating differences and antagonistic attitudes. The owner is reluctant to make improvements, while the tenant refuses to carry out his obligation, and, necessarily, the business of both suffer.

In many respects the owner and his tenant are partners. One cannot exist without the other. Each should profit during good times, and neither should go broke during depressions. There is need, therefore, for a better spirit of understanding and mutual confidence between these two interests.

Building good will is as necessary for the landlord as it is for the merchant. The relationship of landlord and tenant is a reciprocal one and it is equally important that the tenant should deal with his landlord in the same spirit of fair dealing as he would expect from the man to whom he pays rent. He cannot make unreasonable demands for concessions and rent reductions when business conditions become unfavorable for him and then resist justifiable rent increases when his business warrants it.

Subtle Approach Proves

Successful to Salesman

She opened the door suspiciously, and when she saw on the step a cheerful young man with a suitcase in his hand she began to close it again.

"One moment, madam!" he exclaimed. "I am not an insurance canvasser, and I don't want to sell you toilet preparations, stockings, books, or, indeed, anything of that sort."

She hesitated, the door half closed. He continued, earnestly: "I do not represent a sewing-machine company, nor one selling gramophones or electric cleaners."

The door began to open again. "I am neither collecting rates nor asking subscriptions for a charity—I find it hard enough to make a living for myself."

These reassurances had their effect, and she opened the door wide. The young man continued eagerly: "I am not seeking your support for any political party or any other organization."

"What in the world," she said, "do you want then?"

The young man smiled engagingly. "A-ah!" he exclaimed. "I see that I have interested you. I represent a firm which deals in photographic enlargements."

Death Notice Reunites

Pair Apart for 46 Years

BRISTOL, CONN.—A brother and sister were reunited recently after a separation of 46 years.

Mrs. Mabel Rich, 65 years old, hadn't seen her brother, Edward L. Minor, 68, Bristol, in nearly a half century, when she read about the death of his wife.

She contacted him, and now Mrs. Rich, a widow, is living here with her brother.

Air Warriors Are Mixed Lot

British Gunners Come From Various Occupations in Civil Life.

LONDON.—Yesterday he may have been a tinker or tailor, but today in the blue-gray of the royal air force he is the nemesis of Nazi black-tipped bombers.

It didn't take place overnight, this transformation of a peaceful citizen to an air gunner with a deft trigger-finger and clear eyes, but the change is going on now in a thousand ex-clerks, ex-salesmen, and others.

A typical group following the course consists of 10 volunteers, only two of which had any previous experience of service conditions.

Varied Lot in Civil Life.

In private life they were a varied lot. One was a county cricketer, another the manager of a large London store. There are also the former representative of a metal manufacturer, a local government official, an experimental engineer, an advertisement artist, a company director, a journalist and a man of independent means whose chief hobby before the war was driving racing cars.

The course followed is an intensive one. It is impossible to describe a typical day in the life of an air gunner, for no such thing exists. A great deal naturally depends on the weather; and when this is good, and visibility reasonable, flying and firing practice in the air are likely to take precedence over lectures. Even in dull weather, however, lectures are interspersed, wherever possible, with ground practice.

Must Understand Weapons.

The lectures themselves embrace all the latest types of gun and ammunition, for the first essential is that the officer air gunner should understand his gun and its construction.

As the officer-in-charge of the

Distribute Drug In an Effort to Check Pneumonia

Albany, Jan. 22.—Free distribution of the drug sulfa-pyridine will be started tomorrow by the State Department of Health in an effort further to control pneumonia in the state and to aid sufferers from the disease for whom purchase of the drug would be a hardship. Announcement of the plan was made today by Dr. Edward S. Rogers, Director of the Bureau of Pneumonia Control of the Department.

Doctor Rogers said that sulfa-pyridine will be distributed for the use of registered doctors of medicine and hospitals in the treatment of pneumococcal infections. A list of supply stations designated for this purpose has been provided every registered doctor of medicine in the state through the Department's District State Health Officers, and the drug will be supplied only on the direct or authorized request of a physician for the treatment of a specific case.

"This step has been undertaken by this Department in order that the benefits of this drug may be made readily accessible to all patients with pneumonia of pneumococcal infection," Doctor Rogers said. "The Department of Health will continue to produce and distribute anti-pneumococcus serums of all types in accordance with its present policy. In the treatment of a given case, a physician may wish to employ either sulfa-pyridine or serum, or sometimes he may require both.

"It is important to emphasize that the brilliance of these recent medical discoveries in the treatment of pneumonia has not lessened but rather increased the individual's responsibility to place himself immediately in the care of a physician upon the development of any symptoms suggestive of pneumonia. As effective as these serums or drugs may be, their effect may be greatly lessened if treatment is not started early."

Doctor Rogers emphasized that the most common danger signs of pneumonia are: symptoms of a cold in the chest with fever, shaking chills, sharp pain in the chest, and a cough productive of blood-tinged sputum. He said that any one or a combination of these symptoms indicates the need for immediate medical advice.

Shandaken Town Supervisor Gives Facts and Figures

Editor of The Freeman:

An editorial published recently in a county newspaper commented on the indebtedness in the town of Shandaken in order to show that the county of Ulster is a county having bonded indebtedness, contrary to its claim. Fearing that the people of my town might misconstrue the meaning of the statement that "the figure is extraordinarily large for the town," I ask you to print a statement showing the comparison between the indebtedness at the time I assumed office in 1938 and the indebtedness as of December 31, 1940. The published report of the former supervisor, as of December 31, 1937, showed a total indebtedness of $80,375.84. On December 31, last, that figure had been cut to $49,817.44, or a reduction of $30,558.40 during my term of office. At the same time taxes have been reduced. Taking the village of Phoenicia as an example, it will be found that whereas in 1937 the tax per thousand of assessed valuation was $79.86, the tax levied for the past year and payable at the present time is $53.83 per thousand valuation. This is a reduction of $26.03 per thousand since 1937, or nearly one-third. I might add that the county of Ulster is not and never was responsible for any part of the bonded indebtedness of the town of Shandaken.

GEORGE C. SMITH,
Supervisor, Town of Shandaken.

HOME LESSONS IN DANCING END WALLFLOWER TROUBLE

Smart Steps Easily Learned

Wistfully watching — because she just doesn't know — popular dances like the Peabody. Soon she'll be in the powder room crying. "But I haven't a chance to learn smart steps," wails many a wallflower — as if you couldn't learn at home from simple diagrams!

Besides, the Peabody's easy to do. As our diagram shows you, it's much like a fast fox-trot.

Counting 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8, you (1) step forward on left foot, (2) step forward on right, (3) quickly step diagonally forward on left AND quickly cross right back on left, (4) step forward on left.

Watch the diagrams, then watch yourself in the mirror. Are you stepping on the balls of your feet—shortly, smoothly? Are you dancing gracefully—head up, hips under the body?

Our 32-page booklet gives diagrammed directions for the Peabody two-step, box-turn and grapevine, for popular steps in the fox-trot, tango, waltz, Lindy, Conga, rumba, Samba shag and Westchester. Tells how to lead or follow, be a popular partner.

BEWARE OF COLDS NOW!

Contagious Colds are Spreading
Take These Time-Tested Precautions

Keep out of crowds as much as possible. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular. Don't take needless chances. Don't experiment with untried medications. And be sure to have these two time-tested home-approved treatments on hand, ready for use.

At the First Sign of a Cold

Be ready to help prevent many colds from developing. At the first warning sneeze, sniffle, or irritated feeling in your nose—use Vicks VapoRub. Just a few drops up each nostril. Right away you can feel VapoRub stimulating Nature's own cold-fighting defenses. Used in time, it actually helps to keep many colds from developing.

Also use VapoRub for swift relief from the suffocating stuffiness and congestion of a head cold.

If a Cold Develops

(Some colds get by all precautions)

Thoroughly massage throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub, then spread on a thick layer of VapoRub, cover with a warm cloth, and go to bed. VapoRub brings wonderful relief and invites restful sleep. VapoRub stimulates the skin like a warming poultice, while its medicinal vapors are breathed into the cold-irritated air passages. Often when morning comes, most of the cold's discomforts are gone.

Now Be Prepared—Get a bottle of Vicks VapoRub and a jar of Vicks VapoRub today and take the above precautions. They may save you a lot of sickness and worry. Be sure to read package enclosures for complete, helpful directions for use.

Marian Martin
PATTERN 9519

This trim cotton dress would make you feel "at home" anywhere... it's so figure-flattering. Marian Martin has planned Pattern 9519 especially for the larger-sized woman, and every detail really slims. For instance, that long front panel goes all the way from shoulders to hem in a flowing, unbroken line. And the bias-cut side bodice sections are made in low points for a slender, long-waisted effect. Notice the double skirt panels at each side-front—they give becoming lines and extra ease through the skirt. The whole back of the frock is in just two simple pieces. Choose one of the newly spaced flowered cotton fabrics and make this long or short-sleeved style in a jiffy.

Pattern 9519 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 4 yards 39 inch fabric. Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Sanford Issues Warning Against Threat of Disease

"While there is apparently no great number of grip or influenza cases at present in Kingston," said Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, today, "there is every reason to believe that there may be before the winter is over."

Dr. Sanford in his statement issued today said that according to reports this disease is moving rapidly from the west to the eastern part of the country. In fact many eastern cities are feeling its effect at present.

Influenza is a direct contact disease spread from one person to another, largely through droplet infection, germs from the mouth and throat being forced into the air in the act of sneezing, coughing, talking, etc.

Wherever persons come in close contact with each other, especially in over-crowded, poorly ventilated places, there the disease is certain to spread.

Where flu is prevalent, said Dr. Sanford, persons should avoid large gatherings or close contact with others as much as possible.

Symptoms of grip or flu, he said, are chills and fever, headache and general muscular pains, and anyone having these symptoms should go to bed and call the doctor. It is a mistake, said Dr. Sanford, to remain at work and try to fight it off besides delaying your own recovery you are exposing others with whom you come in contact.

It is not necessary, he said, to enter a hospital unless complications occur or unless it is impossible to secure any type of care at home. Crowding of influenza patients together does give an opportunity for the transmission of secondary infection agents.

Early isolation, bed rest, good nursing and medical care will accomplish the most in fighting influenza, said Dr. Sanford.

Jacob Cohen Dies Of Heart Attack

Mansion House Resident Stricken This Morning

Jacob Cohen, aged 54 years, dropped dead of a heart attack this morning while standing on the front porch of the home of his sister, Mrs. Sadie Cohen, 44 Abell street.

Mr. Cohen, who resides in the former Mansions House, residing at 11 Broadway, had been calling on his sister on Abell street and was on his way home when stricken.

Coroner Frank McCordle of Rosendale issued a death certificate and turned the body over to Undertaker Thomas J. Wolf. Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock from the Wolf Funeral Home, 340 Broadway, with burial in the Agudas Achim Cemetery.

Mr. Cohen for some time was in the employ of the Board of Public Works. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Eva Harris Cohen, and two sisters, Miss Anna Cohen of 11 Broadway, and Mrs. Cohen of Abell street.

Surviving are two sons, Jacob and George Margolis, of this city; three brothers, Max Rosenberg of Philadelphia, Pa., and Jack and Joseph Rosenberg of Jersey City, N. J.; three sisters, Mrs. Tina Hirsch of Robinsonville, N. J., Mrs. Mollie Kaplan of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Lillian Meltzer of Cleveland, O. She was a member of Agudas Achim Congregation. The funeral will be held from her late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rabbi Bernard Gershuny officiating, assisted by Cantor Grossberg. Burial will be in Agudas Achim Cemetery.

Marlborough, Jan. 23.—Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Tutthill Funeral Home, Main street, Marlborough, for the late Mrs. Annie Terwilliger, 82, who died on Saturday in New Paltz after a long illness. A native of Middle Hope, Mrs. Terwilliger was the widow of Joseph Levi Terwilliger and was a resident of Marlborough and member of the Methodist Church. The funeral services in the home were conducted by the Rev. Allan T. Dodge of the Methodist Church with burial in the Riverside cemetery, Marlborough. Survivors are a son, Cassius Terwilliger of Bayonne, N. J., a daughter, Mrs. Viola Coyle of San Francisco, a brother, Eugene Terwilliger of Middle Hope, and a sister, Adelaide Lawson of San Francisco.

The funeral of William C. Enty was held from the Wolf Funeral Home, 340 Broadway, Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. and at the Franklin A. M. Zion Church at 2:30 o'clock, where services were conducted by the Rev. C. Kirtson, pastor, assisted by the Rev. E. O. Clarke of Newburgh, former pastor of the church. The services were largely attended by his many relatives and friends. Mr. Enty for the past 30 years was organist of the church. During the services Mrs. Anna Van Derzee and Miss June Van Derzee sang "Face to Face" and "The Old Rugged Cross," two of Mr. Enty's favorite hymns. The casket bearers were the Messrs. Jackson, Schoonmaker, Broadhead, Jackson, Broadhead and Walker. A large funeral cortege accompanied the body to Mountain View cemetery, where the Revs. Kirtson and Clarke pronounced the final absolution as the body was laid to rest.

Had Wrong Plates Following a collision near the top of East Kingston hill about 3:45 Wednesday afternoon between cars driven by John F. McCullough of East Kingston and Eugene Wood of Kingston, RD. Wood was arrested by Deputy Sheriff O'Brien and Winne on a charge of having improper registration plates. Wood was fined $5 and sentenced suspended.

Conservation Farming

Swells Supply of Milk AMHERST, MASS.—With 1940 feed supplies and pastures improved by conservation farming, dairymen could provide every person in the United States with 45 quarts more milk and cream this year than in 1939, according to the Agricultural Adjustment administration. It is also reported that they could furnish 81 pounds more cheese, butter and ice cream than last year.

Boy's Note Asks Care For Abandoned Puppy

PHILADELPHIA.—How it must have hurt!

A shivering, whimpering puppy was found on a doorstep with this note, in boyish scrawl:

"Her name is Dixie Spider. She was 9 months old Nov. 25. Things she can do. Sit up and shake hands—also walk on two feet—Please take care of her."

News Indicates Defense Plants Are Progressing

The Securities and Exchange Commission yesterday issued a tentative plan for integration of the United Gas Improvement Co., holding company system, which would require it to limit its holdings of utility operating properties to three states—Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware—in a territory which is about 80 by 30 miles in size, holdings there having a book value of about $350,000,000. Under the plan the company must give up other properties having a book value of about $275,000,000. This is the first "blue print" issued by the commission for the integration of a public utility holding system under the "death sentence" clause of the Public Utility Act of 1935.

Corwin D. Edwards, of the department of justice anti-trust division, told a luncheon gathering yesterday that there is no evidence that chain food stores are driving independent merchants out of business and that the competition between independents and chains has contributed substantially to progress in food distribution.

Estimates based on railroad freight and passenger traffic so far this month indicate that the Class 1 carriers should show the best gross revenues, not operating income and net income for any January in the past ten years. This despite the spending of heavy sums for maintenance.

News indicates defense plant expansion is progressing. Good progress is reported on the new du Pont powder plant in Indiana and two production lines may be in operation by spring. The $35,000,000 building program of Reynolds metals will, by mid-summer, bring company's rate of aluminum products output above that of the entire country prior to the European war.

The navy now has bids on all but 250,000 pounds of the 3,259,000 pounds of copper it asked for. The RFC, according to Jesse Jones, had bought 97,000 tons of rubber, 100,000 tons of copper and 40,000 tons of tin; may buy another 100,000 tons of copper.

Employment in Detroit is now at the highest level for any year, with the possible exception of 1929. It is stated that 141,561 freight cars will be needed in the Great Lakes region to handle first quarter auto shipments.

Three rail shares—Southern Pacific, Atchafalaya and N. Y. Central—led the list of most active stocks Wednesday, with gains of five to seven points and activity in the five shares lifted the market generally to higher levels. In the Dow-Jones averages industrials had a gain of .45, closing at 128.65; the rail average gained .38, to 29.28 and utilities were up .14, to 20.18. Volume was 520,000 shares.

Commodities were steady and the index up .13 point. Cotton futures more than recovered Tuesday's losses and closed up seven to 18 points. Wheat dipped on favorable crop reports and closed 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher. Cottonseed oil went to new highs for the season.

G.O.P. Campaign Spending

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—Republican political organizations were listed as spending nearly $15,000,000 last year and their Democratic rivals slightly more than $6,000,000, in a report approved today by the special committee investigating campaign expenses. Chairman Gillette (D-Ia.) said the committee compilation was to be included in the final report that will reach the senate later this month.

Well, Nine Lives

Cleveland (AP)—Soldiers at the National Guard cavalry armory, practicing with two machine guns, fired into several bales of hay. Then, during a lull in the shooting, a kitten sauntered out of the hay, paused to wash itself and calmly departed.

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—Attempts to extend Wednesday's mild rally met with scant response in today's stock market and early gains running to a point were reduced or transformed into declines near the final hour.

Even the rails, which led a half-hearted advance at the start, backed away from best levels, and steels and motors stepped into losing territory. Dealings slackened appreciably after moderate activity in the morning. Transfers were at the rate of approximately 500,000 shares.

Forenoon buying was attributed partly to the belief the market was in a better technical position after its lengthy stalemate. Lack of a follow-through, though, was a bit discouraging to bullish contingents and a number of commitments were shelved because of this. News from the war and business fronts still was helpful in spots. Fears of growing labor difficulties were thought to have dampened speculative spirits to a certain degree.

Carrier bonds continued to do fairly well. Commodities were steady.

Among resistant stocks were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Republic Steel, Boeing, Bendix, Kennecott, Western Union, American Can, Johns-Manville and U. S. Gypsum.

General Motors and Chrysler slipped, along with U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse and Allied Chemical.

Up now and then in the curb were Lake Shore, American Gas and Bell Aircraft. Scranton-Springbrook Water Service, an inactive issue, shot up more than 12 points on a meager turnover.

Let's have veal steaks today! Variety and because they are good on any occasion, veal steaks are worthy of a place in the cooking repertoire of the homemaker. Veal has a fine delicate flavor and it is a meat. It isn't hard to cook and does require a little extra in preparation and in the use of accompanying foods if full possibilities are to be brought out.

Veal steaks can be cut from the veal and, sirloin or shoulder section. Slices should be from three-eighths to one-inch thick. Round of veal corresponds to beef and steak. It has the small end bone and the same shape as beef round but is, of course, smaller. This is sometimes known as a cutlet.

From the shoulder section come blade steaks and the arm steaks.

Arm veal steaks are cut from arm roast. They are identical with the small round bone and ribs. One steak will serve one to three persons, depending upon the size and thickness. Veal steaks are cooked by sing.

For the largest selling cough medicine in all Canada is Buckley's Cough Mixture. Compound from Canadian Pine Balsam (by a process) Buckley's is entirely different from anything else you ever get a bottle today—take a teaspoonful, let it lie on your tongue a moment then swallow slowly. Instantly feel its powerful effective action in your throat, head and bronchial tubes. Coughing spasms cease. Right away it loosens up thick choking mucus—opens up clogged bronchial tubes—makes breathing easier. Now I know why over 10 million bottles of Buckley's famous cough mixture have been sold in cold, wintry days. At good drug stores now have this Canadian discovery.—Advt.

Veal Steaks in Tempting Style

Braised veal steaks, with onion rings and shoestring potatoes, are a delicious combination. Green peas are the other vegetable on the menu. Gravy, made from the liquid in the pan, is served separately.

lacking in fat. They are always cooked by braising. They should always be cooked at a low temperature. One of the advantages of this method of cooking is that the flavor of the meat is extended to the gravy. This can be enhanced by the use of spices or by cooking vegetables with the meat.

Here are especially delicious ways to prepare veal steaks.

Savory Veal Steaks
1½ pounds veal shoulder steaks
2 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1½ teaspoons dry mustard
2 tablespoons lard
2 onions
1 small can evaporated milk (or)
1 cup top milk
1 cup water

Buy three round bone veal shoulder steaks. Mix dry ingredients and pound into meat. Brown one side in hot fat. Sprinkle with remaining flour mixture. Turn and cover with sliced onions. When second side is brown, add water, cover and simmer one and a half hours, or until tender. Remove meat to platter. Add milk to drippings, heat thoroughly and serve with the meat.

Braised Veal Steak with Mushrooms
2 pounds veal steak
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
2 cups crushed corn flakes
4 tablespoons lard
1 small can mushrooms

Have veal steak cut 1-inch thick. Cut into pieces for serving. Dip into slightly beaten egg to which milk has been added. Roll in finely crushed corn flakes. Brown in hot lard. Pour over them 1 small can mushrooms with the liquid. Cover tightly and cook very slowly until done, about 45 minutes. Thicken liquid for gravy and serve with the steaks.

Will Spend $3,000,000 To Advance Television

WASHINGTON. — Expenditure of more than $3,000,000 on research and experimentation with television is proposed by 10 television projects which received the approval of the Federal Communications commission.

This brings the total budgeted for that purpose by the two-score individuals and firms which have been authorized to date by the commission to engage in experimental operation to $8,000,000.

The most significant modern discovery in nutrition is that both health and productive capacity may be greatly improved by the addition of proper foods to a diet previously considered satisfactory. The right nourishment determines to a large extent whether a person enjoys buoyant health or merely passable health.

Dime Shop Wedding Rings To Seal Unions in Reno
RENO.—Many of the young people who come here to be married to escape the California "gin marriage" and blood test laws do it with dime store wedding rings. The local 5 & 10 has done a big business in rings. About the only high-priced rings sold are to local residents or Easterners who come here.

Places Early Order

Harrison Forde, proprietor of the McCormick-Deering farm machinery business on the Kingston-Ellenville road just beyond Hurley, has anticipated a scarcity of farm machinery because of the armament program and has placed orders for early delivery of Farmall Tractors. He has already received a carload of model A small tractors from the International Harvester Co. factory where armaments contracts may later delay shipments. Mr. Forde has handled farm machinery for the past 12 years.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

SOCIETIES • CLUBS • PERSONALS

Music Club Has Book Review

A special meeting of the Musical Society of Kingston was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur J. Laidlaw on Franklin street for a review of the book, "Free Artists" by Catherine Drinker Bowen, given by Mrs. Raymond Rignall.

The program opened with a review of the life of the author given by Mrs. Mortimer B. Downer and a review of the political situation in Europe during the life of the artists, Anton and Nikolai Rubinstein. Short press reviews of "Free Artists" given by the book at its early release were read by Miss Caroline Port, Mrs. Warren Ingalsbe and Mrs. John Warren.

Following Mrs. Rignall's extremely interesting review of the book, Mrs. Henry F. Dunbar sang "Dearest" and "Der Traume" by Rubinstein, accompanied by Mrs. Rignall. A social hour followed with Mrs. Bertrand B. Bishop and Mrs. LeRoy Vogt as hostesses.

Hostess at Luncheon

Mrs. James Ryan of Pine Grove avenue entertained at luncheon on Wednesday at her home. Her guests were Mrs. William McBride, Mrs. B. Bennett, Mrs. Frederick Diehl, Mrs. Henry Goldsmith, Mrs. Adelaide Sottile, Miss Anna Van Buren, Mrs. Robert Rice and Mrs. Robert Henry. This was the first in a series of luncheons that members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Holy Cross are holding in their homes.

To Attend League Conference

Mrs. John G. M. Hilton of Green street, president of the Kingston Junior League, and Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, chairman of welfare, will leave on Sunday for St. Louis, Mo., to represent the local Junior League at the 21st annual Junior League Conference. Mrs. Haver and Mrs. Hilton will stay at the conference headquarters, the Chase Hotel. Among the lectures they will attend will be "Community Organization," "Medical Social Service," and "Provisions for Children of Working Mothers." They will also be taken on a field trip to see at first hand the St. Louis Junior League project on occupational therapy. They will return February 1.

Parent-Teacher Ass'n

Rosendale P-T. A.

The regular meeting of the P-T. A. was held at the school auditorium January 16. Reports were given on expenses of the Christmas party. It was voted to send a letter of thanks to Mr. Vaughn for his donation of ice cream to the children's party. The teachers gave each child a box of bandy.

Money from Miss Pine for the first lot of dish cloths was paid, and some money received on the second lot. There were some more dish cloths distributed.

The music appreciation hour report was given by Mrs. Fahey. It was suggested that Mrs. Fahey speak to the board on continuing the course for the balance of the school year.

The Founders Day program on February 20. Exercises to be put on by the children were discussed. Founders Day collection will be sent to Albany as Founders Day gift. It was voted to hold a birthday party as in the past with the cost of refreshments to be paid by members present. Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Zegel, Mrs. Lippert, with Mrs. G. Lewis to serve on the committee for the party.

A National Radio Forum is held each Monday, 6 to 6:15 p. m., over WNY.

Ulster county radio program January 25, at 11 a. m. WKNY every two weeks. Report on Ulster county radio program of January 11 was given by Mrs. Burke. This program dealt with the topic of permitting children to skip grades in school. Members held a discussion on this subject. The group was opposed to children skipping grades because there is some subject matter covered in each grade of vital importance to the students' future school work.

Mrs. Fahey announced that the Board of Education of the school would sponsor two free moving pictures on January 23 at 2:15 p. m., one movie entitled "Tobacco Land in the United States of America."

The board asked Mrs. Fahey to stress the importance of having each child in attendance every day when at all possible, as each absence cuts down on money received from the state, as state aid. All money so lost must be paid by the taxpayers in their school tax.

The program for the day was in charge of Miss Pine, program chairman. Miss Pine had secured Mrs. Henry Dunbar of Hurley to speak. Mrs. Dunbar sang a number of English nursery rhymes and was accompanied on the piano

"Rumpelstilzkin" to Be Given by School Children

(Freeman Photo)

The final rehearsal of the song play, "Rumpelstilzkin" to be given by the pupils of School 7 was held this afternoon at the Myron J. Michael School before an audience of grammar school children. The main characters, left to right, are Ronald Lord, the littlest page; Gloria Levine, nurse; Beth Sherman, queen; Evan Savatgy, Rumpelstilzkin, and Raymond Hull, the miller. The public performance of the play will be given Friday evening in the M. J. M. School at 8 o'clock. The play is under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association of the school and has been directed by Miss Shirley McCarty. Miss Eleanor Lawatsch is the accompanist.

by Mrs. Vogt. Mrs. Dunbar's program was different from any ever had before. She sang the rhymes, then had members guess what the subjects of the rhymes were.

To Give Talk

Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the First Dutch chapel the Rev. Arthur S. Cole will deliver an address on: "Recollections of a Long Ministry." Many interesting changes and trends have been observed by Mr. Cole in his long years of experience. The meeting is open to all.

Two Types of Mocassins

There are mocassins and mocassins! Some scientist investigating original Indian mocassin patterns discovered that there are more than two dozen of them. And when it comes to the-decoration designs, there's no end to them. Yet a trained Indian could look at a mocassin design and tell from what tribe the wearer came. An expert Indian scout could study a mocassin track in the dust and tell as much.

LADIES HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

(Freeman Photo)

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Union Hose held its annual banquet Wednesday evening at The Barn. The officers are Miss Margaret Reilly, treasurer; Miss Julia Kane, president; Mrs. Francis Murphy, secretary, and Mrs. Anna Mae Hornbeck, vice president.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

ED TO MOURNING BLACK. CONSIDERED SUITABLE FOR MOTHER AT WEDDING

Only Tabu, One of Both Taste and Superstition Is Against Black for Bride and Attendants.

A fashion counselor, whose letterhead is that of a well-known women's specialty store, brings up the constantly recurring question of whether it is still considered bad luck or bad taste or otherwise unsuitable for the mothers of the bride and groom to wear black dresses at the wedding. In connection with her own work, she says:

"I can no longer overlook the fact that many of the mothers who ask my advice are stout and naturally feel much more comfortable in their accustomed black on this rather frightening occasion of being pushed into the limelight. Inasmuch as these women want to buy especially important dresses for this occasion, they hardly want to put so much money in a dress they would not enjoy wearing after the wedding. In your opinion, is this growing feeling in favor of black a trend that may be encouraged, or have you any definite reason (outside of superstitious fear) why it should be checked?"

In answer to this, I more than agree that black is much kinder to the curves of the plump than color. It has moreover for so long been the favorite dress of every young woman as well as older ones, that the distinction between the black of mourning, and the black worn by the smart, is now very marked. It is true that the "dull black" of deep mourning has always been, and is still, unsuitable. Otherwise, the only tabu (which is one of taste and superstition both) that now exists against "bright black" at the wedding is for the bride and her attendants. For older members of the family as well as girls, black, which has relief of color somewhere in its trimming, is quite correct. However, let me add this: I do think that for the mother who habitually chooses color as well as black, this is one of the times when a becoming color would be a more suitable choice.

How To Choose Size of Marking For Silver

Dear Mrs. Post: In using a single initial, or even three initials, to mark a silver tea service, what should the approximate size of the marking be in proportion to the size of the article? Is it possible to give some idea?

Answer: No, I can't imagine how any general idea can be given because it all depends upon the kind of marking and upon the ornamentation of the silver. But if you keep in mind the fact that undersized letters rather than oversized ones are likely to be in best taste, I think you can judge for yourself what size would look best.

Return Invitation Not Always Necessary.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is a professor at this small college, and this being our first year, his salary is very small and we also have a very modest house, we have been invited to dinner at the president's house—from the invitation I gathered that we were dining alone with them. Please tell me what I can do in return for this hospitality.

Answer: It is not necessary—nor is it expected—that you return this hospitality at all, further than by "paying your party call" within three or four days after the dinner. If you are invited many times, you make whatever return you can—invite them to supper, or invite her to lunch or perhaps only to afternoon tea. Or, send her a few flowers early in the morning after dining with them the second time.

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad however to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "Perfect Table Silver." Be sure to send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your requests to Mrs. Post, in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y.

Your Screen Test

By ROBBIN COONS

1. Girl in the picture has the same first name as a famous girl dancer, the same surname as a tall, gawky star whose specialty is shy, raw-boned American "country boys." If you can't identify her thus, see new Hopalong Cassidy—she's leading lady. Who?

2. In this air-minded age, perhaps you can name off a few—say three—movies, old or new, in which "Wings" figures in the titles.

3. What a child star is celebrating her third birthday—after celebrating "his" first?

4. What top star's recent marriage to a childhood friend really caught gossip Hollywood napping?

5. Correct these teamings: (a) Stan Laurel and Slim Summerville; (b) ZaSu Pitts and Oliver Hardy; (c) Lewis Stone and Butch; (d) Mickey Rooney and Buddy; (e) Pinocchio and Jiminy Cricket.

Count 20 points for each question correctly answered. A score of 60 is good, 80 is excellent and 90 or above is colossal.

CREEK LOCKS

Creek Locks, Jan. 23—Mrs. K. Maurer has returned to New York after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coutant has left for New York where Mrs. J. Coutant will spend a few days with relatives.

William Fisher is displaying a hen's egg weighing 5½ ounces. Charles McLaren of Brooklyn, spent the week-end with his family.

Joe Ebberts of New York spent the week-end at his father's summer home here.

Paul Hoppie of New York spent a few days with the Fishers.

Mrs. Mary Glosier of New York and Mr. and Mrs. William Wecker spent Friday evening with Mrs. M. Lynch.

There are many cases of the mumps reported. Warren Prandoni of Jersey City, N. J., visited the Coutants Sunday.

Japan shipped nearly 100,000,000 pounds of canned sea foods to other countries last year.

Diversions Is Condemned by A.A.A.

Citing that diversion and misuse of motor revenues has delayed the construction of highways facilities now essential, the Highway and Legislative Committee of the A.A.A. said at their annual convention: "Well over a billion dollars has found its way into non-highway channels through mis-spending by the state governments. Additional hundreds of millions, to an extent that cannot be estimated, have gone to non-highway purposes through failure of states to control such expenditures by local governments."

Geneva, N. Y.—Pointing out that farmers generally are deeply interested in new and improved varieties of fruits and vegetables, new fertilizer and cultural practices, new fungicides and insecticides, in fact in any new or better way of doing things on the farm, Prof. P. J. Parrott, Director of the Experiment Station here, told members of the State Grange at their annual convention in Kingston recently that what the individual farmer thinks and does in an effort to improve his circumstances is of the greatest importance.

Every State Wants A Battleship — For A Namesake

By JOHN GROVER

AP Feature Service Writer
Washington—If you can make 7 into 23 with none left over, you're the mathematical wizard Navy needs to name its new ocean fleet.

That problem's got to be solved, there's going to a bounty on admirals in 16 states disappointed when a battleship isn't named for them. There are only seven battleships still unchristened, and 16 states are contesting for the honors.

Senators, representatives and vic delegations are putting on pressure to win the nomenclature sweepstakes. Even Navy Secretary Frank Knox of Chicago is on the spot, because there's no U.S.S. named.

Some Have Had Six
In the past, there's been top-favoritism in naming U.S. ships. Some states have had only one ship in their names, others as many as six.

The 23 states not now represented by a battleship and the number of vessels previously named for them are: Oregon, 3; Montana, 2; Kansas, 2; Nebraska, 2; North Dakota, 1; Minnesota, 2; Louisiana, 2; Florida, 4; Georgia, 1; South Carolina, 3; Virginia, 4; Delaware, 6; Rhode Island, 2; Connecticut, 6; Maine, 2; New Hampshire, 2; Vermont, 2; Utah, 1; Wyoming, 3.

Kentucky, Georgia, North Dakota really have the loudest squawk coming. Each has had only one ship in its name in history. Technically, Utah, Wyoming and Oregon don't belong in the list of 23, because each has a ship namesake, even if they aren't battleships. The Utah is an ex-battleship used as a target ship. The Wyoming is demilitarized and used as a training vessel.

Oregon Satisfied
The Oregon is the veteran of the Spanish-American war which captured world attention in her famous dash around the Horn to Cuba.

She illustrates how seriously states take their namesakes. When she was obsolete, there was talk of scrapping her. Oregon citizens raised such a protest she was "loaned" to the state as a naval museum. She now is permanently tied up in the Willamette river at Portland.

It begins to look as if a couple of the ships will have to be named "Middlewest" or "Deep South," and then name the separate big guns for states.

Britain has ordered the chemical thiamin chloride put in flour to supply vitamin B.

Report Approved On Disbarment Of Attorney Katz

Asia and Jerusalem to accomplish that purpose, in doing so, left women, children and old folks defenseless against the world. To establish defense for them there was a cult which arose called Knights Errant—a body of men prepared to aid the helpless against the predatory.

"The laws conferring privileges on attorneys were not meant for use as a means of exploiting and robbing clients. It is more or less of a disgrace to the profession of law that there is very little left of Knight Errantry in the present practice."

Local Pickets Plant On Pine Grove Avenue
Picketing the plant of the Colonial Liquor Distributors, Inc., 16 Pine Grove avenue, was started on Wednesday afternoon by members of Local No. 445, Chauffeurs, Helpers and Warehouse Men, of the A. F. of L., who went on strike at the plant on Tuesday morning when the concern refused to sign the new wage contract.

Delegate Joseph Rodden, of the local union, said today that the old contract had expired on January 15. He also said that since the strike had been in effect that the concern was employing non-union truck drivers and warehouse men in order to keep going.

At the office of the Colonial Distributors on Tuesday it was stated that the strike had been called because they had refused to agree to terms of the new contract that had been offered.

According to Mr. Rodden about 10 union men are striking until the new wage contract is accepted by the company.

Car Catches Fire
Shortly after 8 o'clock Wednesday night an auto owned by James Glennon, grocer of Wilbur avenue, was being towed by another car on Wilbur avenue when the towed car suddenly burst into flames.

The fire department responded to a call from Box 4111. The fire was extinguished before the firemen reached the scene by Mr. Glennon and several men. The car was not damaged badly.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights
Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with aching and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Airdromes Raided
RAF fighter planes, with six Polish fliers among their crews, also were reported to have carried out two daylight machine gun attacks on Nazi airdromes in German-occupied France yesterday.

The Germans, who engaged in only limited aerial activity over Britain last night, acknowledged some bombs had been dropped in western Germany, but said damage was limited to private property.

British destroyer losses were swelled to 37 by the admiralty's announcement that the 1,340-ton Hyperion had been sunk by other British warships after being left helpless by a mine or torpedo. The date and place were not disclosed.

The Greek high command reported new successes on the Central Albanian battlefield, highlighted by destruction of a 100-truck Italian convoy by Greek bombing planes. The Greeks said they had captured new positions on the central front and had repulsed four Italian counter attacks with heavy fascist losses.

Roosevelt Nominates Walker for Four Years

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated Frank C. Walker to serve four more years as postmaster general.

He also sent to the Senate the nomination of Dean G. Acheson to be an assistant secretary of state in place of Henry Grady, resigned.

Walker was named postmaster general last fall to succeed James A. Farley, who resigned to enter private business. The postmaster generalship is the only cabinet office for which a new appointment has to be made at the beginning of a new presidential term.

Acheson, now practicing law here, was undersecretary of the treasury from May to November, 1933. He was private secretary to Louis D. Brandeis when the latter was in the Supreme Court.

Held on Charges Of Operating Illegal Stills

Two Porto Ricans, George Jusino Rodriguez, 32, and Frank Jusino Rodriguez, 34, of Congress, were arrested Wednesday by federal agents from Newburgh and arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Charles de la Vergne of Kingston on charges of operating illegal stills. Complaint charged the men with operating alcohol stills of 55 and 75 gallon capacity in Rockland county; also with possession of 864 gallons of mash.

The men were held at the Ulster county jail, under $500 bail each, pending action by the federal grand jury.

Coat Is Necessity

Beaver, Pa., Jan. 23 (AP)—A jury decided today a gray beaver coat was a necessity for Mrs. J. Franklin Moltrup, estranged wife of a Beaver Falls, Pa., steel manufacturer, and ordered the estranged husband to pay $572 to a store that sued him for payment. Judge Harry Wilson observed in instructing the jury: "It all comes down to this—is a fur coat a necessity or a luxury? It would take a braver man than I am to answer that."

Dunnville, Ont., Jan. 23 (AP)—Two men were killed today when their Royal Canadian Air Force plane crashed near here.

Oldest Old Mill

Copenhagen, (AP)—A register of business firms in Denmark discloses a flour mill 800 years old. Founded about 1100 in Odense, on the island of Funen, by 12 monks, it now is a big modern factory, grinding thousands of tons of flour every year. Another old firm, "The Royal Brewery," has been brewing beer steadily since 1443. Several pharmacies are 500 years old.

Don't use soda. The addition of soda to the water in which green vegetables are cooked, in order to intensify the color, is not recommended since it destroys flavor and some vitamin C, as well as vitamin B-1.

Truck Upsets on Highland Viaduct

Hit Film of Ice That Coated the Road

A big tractor trailer belonging to the Amsterdam Dispatch Corp. and operated by Leonard J. Ruginiski, also of Amsterdam, jackknifed and upset on its side on the 9-W viaduct at Highland about 11 o'clock Wednesday night. The truck, traveling north, carried a large load of wool.

It was 2 o'clock this morning before a wrecker got the truck off the highway. Meanwhile Sergeant Hulse and Trooper Benson maintained traffic on part of the four strip roadway.

The accident was caused when the truck hit the film of ice that coated the road at that point, following the rain earlier in the evening.

There was a close shave to another and probably more serious accident when another truck came down the road at a good rate of speed and started to jack-knife as it struck the icy spot. The driver did the only thing possible and shot through the opening between the overturned truck and the side of the viaduct. He just made it, the sides of his truck scraping on both sides as it went through.

THE TREMENDOUS FLEXIBILITY OF THIS BURNER ALLOWS IT TO RUN EFFICIENTLY ON LOW CLEAN FIRE KEEPING A LITTLE HEAT CIRCULATING AT ALL TIMES. WHEN THE THERMOSTAT CALLS FOR MORE HEAT, THE FLAME INCREASES INSTANTLY. THIS RESULTS IN A CONSTANT, EVEN TEMPERATURE THAT'S TRUE AS THE COMPASS. NO COLD FLOORS! NO "COLD 70°"!

Concealed controls are fully automatic. Air filters and blower—which permits summer cooling—and the automatic humidifier are all enclosed in the tailored cabinet which is light in weight, easily handled and easily installed.

Close Competition Expected at State Ski Jump in Rosendale

Field to Reach 60 For Sunday's Big Sports Exhibition

Rand. Devlin Favored in Class B; Torger Tokle's Brother Is Expected to Be Big Factor

All indications to the present time show that the New York State Ski Jumping Championship Tourney to be decided Sunday afternoon at Rosendale with the Telemark Ski Club as host for the occasion, will attract many outstanding contenders.

Judging by the past performances of not a few of the entrants, officials opine that many former distance marks may be broken during the course of the tourney. This impression is considerably heightened considering the improvements that have been made on the 40 meter hill.

Close competition is certain. In the ranks of the contestants the following familiar names in the Class A competition will be ready to go: Warren Chivers, National Combined Event Champion of the Vermont Outing Club; Merrill Barber of Norwich University; Jay Rand and Arthur Devlin, club mates of the Sno-Birds of Lake Placid Club; Oscar Bernstein of the Norway Ski Club.

Telemark Represented
In the Class B classification the following athletes will be found: Richard Lindroth, Garner O. C.; Ed Blouen, Don Allen, Bob Billings, and Chick Allen of the Brattleboro O. C.; Fred Marine, Arnold Berge of the Hudson Valley S. C.; George Sherwood of the Sno-Birds; James Victory of the Norfolk S. C.; Harold Sorenson of the 1938 Olympic squad; Harry Wagner, U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Association Combined Event runner-up; Harold Johnansen, Ingolf Helgesen and Martin Dittman, all from the Telemark Ski Club.

Two 19-year old Lake Placid youths, Jay Rand and Art Devlin who finished first and second in the Class A tournament at Bear Mountain Sunday afternoon, are favored in this week's tournament at Rosendale. Rand is the New Hampshire State Champ and Devlin holds the Eastern Champion award for 1939.

Strand in Action
Another possible winner Sunday will be Hans Strand of the Bear Mountain Winter Sports Association and 1940 Veterans Champion. Three weeks ago Hans was severely injured at Bear Mountain when a high wind blew him from the jumping course. Strand suffered a concussion of the brain and other injuries but he is now back in condition. He placed fourth in Class A last Sunday at Bear Mountain where 17,000 fans assembled to see the stiff competition.

Arnold Berge of Hyde Park, a man who has done much to promote skiing in the Hudson Valley region and one of the originators of the Hudson Valley Ski Club of Poughkeepsie, is one of the favorites in the Class B competition. Kyrie Tokle, brother of the famous Torger Tokle, is listed in the Class B division.

Officials at Rosendale are expecting one of the largest turnouts in recent years to witness Sunday's exhibitions. Crews have been hard at work of late to assure all spectators of a successful ski meet.

MacPhail, Jr., Is Ready for New Job

Larry's Son Is Official With Reading Club

Reading, Pa., Jan. 23 (AP)—Equipped with a college degree in economics, 23-year-old Leland Stanford MacPhail, Jr., took charge today of one of his daddy's newest baseball farms.

He's the new business manager of the Reading club of the Interstate League, and one of the youngest executives in Class B baseball.

"Ever since I was an eighth-grader, I've always wanted to be connected with a ball club," announced the son of the Brooklyn Dodgers' loquacious president, "so I guess dad is giving me a chance to realize that ambition."

But the younger "Larry" doesn't intend to rest on pop's shoulders. "I've got some plans for the team. Right now, however, I'm not ready to say just what they are," he said.

That pronouncement probably will come shortly after the boss of the front office gets together with his new manager, Fresno Thompson, former National League infielder who the Dodgers brought in to replace Tom Oliver when they acquired the club last fall.

Right now, the junior MacPhail's main bugaboo is house-hunting. He wants to get domestically established within two weeks so he can devote full time to pointing the club for a repeater of last year's pennant winning ways.

Larry, Jr., is married to the former Jane Hamilton of Tiverton, R. I., whom he courted while both attended Swarthmore, Pa., College.

Ruth Says He's Out of Baseball Life for Keeps

Bambino Is in Bed Again With 'Flu'; Wife Says No Truth in Report He'll Pilot Club

By SID FEDER
New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—From Mrs. Babe Ruth came the surprising word today that the Babe is through with baseball for keeps, let the offers fall where they may.

Talking for the one-and-only Bambino, simply because his throat is so sore he couldn't talk for himself, Mrs. Ruth disclosed this bit of news after revealing that the "flu" bug has bitten the Babe and has kept him in bed since Sunday.

"There's nothing to the report that Babe is planning to become manager of the Seattle Club of the Pacific Coast League," Mrs. Ruth said.

"In fact, the Babe isn't planning to work in baseball any more at all, regardless of what offers he may receive. We feel he's worked hard enough in baseball and he'll take it easy now."

At the moment, the Babe wasn't much interested in baseball, his golf, bridge, or even the size of his wandering waist-line. Mrs. Ruth explained two doctors have been treating him and that day and night nurses are helping them out.

It's not that Ruth is critically ill, but, as Mrs. Babe explained it, "the flu's the flu," and you have to be careful. His temperature which hit 101 yesterday (the Babe, speaking in whispers, said this was not against curve ball pitching) was back to normal last night. His physicians said, however, he probably would have to stay in bed for most of another week.

It was the second time this winter the ex-Sultan of swat came down with a sore throat and allied ailments. Returning from a Canadian hunting trip last month, he drove several hundred miles in a rainstorm and had a touch of grip.

Last Sunday, he went ice fishing in New Jersey. Sunday night, several friends returned to his home with him, but not long after he got back he was put to bed. Only a week ago, Ruth was reported to have said he had changed his mind about managing ball clubs and would even be willing to take a minor league berth now. After Jack Livelt died Monday night, the Babe was reported in line as his successor as manager at Seattle. However, Mrs. Ruth's statement would appear to have put the damper on that possibility.

Walter Cox Feels Changes In Trotting at Goshen Have Taken Memory Toll

Grand Old Man of Sport Lives Quiet Life in Small Town; Hasn't Driven in Years

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Goshen, N. Y., Jan. 23 (AP)—The rambling stands were bleak and dreary, a few tattered banners flapped as a chilly wind howled around the corners, a light layer of snow on the track added to winter's touch. Inside the cozy little office of the Good Time stable sat Walter Cox, grand old man of trotting.

It was a far different sight from last August when thousands of people jammed the stands, milled around the Good Time barn or paused to "chew the fat" with the 72-year-old horseman, who has trained or driven trotters for all but 13 years of his colorful life. But as we talked to the lanky New Englander, the still calls Manchester, N. H., home, there was the impression that he was more than just the lone survivor of that gala August day. He was one of the last connecting links between trotting of other years and the sport as it has been modernized today with pari mutuels, the barrier and phonograph record start.

"Maybe I'm getting old," he said, "but somehow all of these new fangled ideas are taking something away from the sport for me. What I wouldn't give for just one of those olden days, when men of wealth and position gathered under the canopy of my barn to swap stories, when the start of a race really meant good driving and judgment on the part of the starter and winning a bet was not the primary object of the sport."

Was Tough to Beat

Walter didn't say it in exactly those words. He punctuated almost every word with strong slang. That's his way of talking and without the liberal use of cuss words he wouldn't be Walter Cox, one of the sport's most beloved and respected men. He's known wherever trotters and pacers perform as a mighty tough man to beat in a horse swap. He'll be the first to come to the aid of a hard-pressed friend and ask nothing in return. But don't ever try to cheat him out of a dollar. In the days of man-to-man wagering, when the bookmaker feared no man's money, he was a mighty dangerous man in the betting ring. Few could top him when it came to building up a horse for a "killing."

"But those days are gone," he said. "The last time I tried to make some real money, you know I could get up only $50 on my horse."

Don't get the idea the sport hasn't treated Walter kindly. It has and he said so. But it's just that he likes the old style of racing. He's not wealthy as wealth goes these days, but he lives comfortably in a big house not far from the track, wagers on the horses (both trotters and runners) when he so desires—and now he loves a chicken fight. He'll go miles to throw his roosters into the pit against those of a rival—many of whom are his cronies of the trotting game.

He wouldn't even venture how much he'd won in purses since the days when he challenged the rival butcher boy for a race down Manchester's main street with $2 as the wager. But it probably would run up into hundreds of millions of dollars. No man has ever equalled his performance in the 1939 Hambleton when four horses trained by him were the first under the wire. He was up behind the winner—Walter Dear.

Living Has Changed

Doctor's orders and the death of Mrs. Cox a year or so ago have changed his mode of living. No more does he arise at four or five o'clock. It's now 7 a. m. or later, especially in the winter when there is little to be done except to direct his trainer how to jog the horses. That's a daily procedure. If there's snow, then the horses are hitched to a light sleigh.

He hasn't driven a horse for more than three years. Too great a strain on his heart. A few years ago he wouldn't have thought of riding the few blocks from home to the stable, he never drinks liquor, hasn't for years, but smokes an endless chain of cigars made in his home town.

His home has two large living rooms but you never find Walter there. He holds forth in his den, where, with his hat on he entertains friends from all over the country. The walls of the room are lined with pictures of famous races and horses and an old desk, where only he can find anything. He used to read one mystery story after another. Along side his favorite chair still is piled two stacks of them.

The picture he points to with extra pride, however, is the one of Fireglow. Walter calls him the greatest horse he ever drove. The colt, owned by W. H. Bradford of Bennington, Vt., took a record of 2:04 as a two-year-old in 1927 but died the following year.

Bradley Insists Feller Gets More

Indians Claim Young Ace Tops All Hurlers

Cleveland, Jan. 23 (AP)—Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Indians, maintains that Bob Feller is the highest-paid pitcher in the history of baseball despite Detroit's claims for Buck Newsum.

Methods of bookkeeping may have something to do with it. Neither club would reveal exact figures but here is how they stack up today:

Feller received a salary last year generally believed to have been $27,000. His bonuses and income from endorsements added something like $10,000 more.

Newsum was paid $30,000 last year including bonuses, said Walter O. Briggs, owner of the Tigers. "And he has signed his 1941 contract," Briggs added, indicating a raise in salary although nothing was said on that score. The most optimistic estimates placed the top possibility at $35,000.

To this, Bradley retorted: "Bob Feller is still the highest-paid pitcher in baseball; he was the highest-paid last year too." To the assumption that Newsum's 1941 contract must call for more than $30,000, Bradley snapped: "So does Bob's. Feller still is the highest-paid."

Adding the $10,000 extras again places Feller's income above the $40,000 mark—and on that bookkeeping basis he apparently is tops.

Cadets Score Easy Win by 59-26 Score

Wimpy Aces Turn Back Morans, 35-29

The Cadets scored an easy win over Mary's Beauty Shoppe Wednesday evening in the City Basketball League by 59 to 26. S. Meyers and Hornbeck were the high scorers for the winners. Albany dumped in 10 for the losers. Morans suffered another setback at the hands of the Wimpy Aces, 35 to 29. Pat Bowers was high man for the winners with eight. Al Flowers collected nine for Morans.

The scores: Cadets (59)—Hughes 10, Snyder 4, Toffel 9, Hornbeck 14, Williams 6, R. Myers 5, S. Meyers 11; Mary's Beauty Shoppe (26)—I. Kreppel 7, King 1, Albany 11, Dobie 10, Kreppel 7.

Wimpy Aces (35)—Thomas 7, Bowers 8, Coughlin 4, Rickerson 2, B. Smith 2, Uhl 6, Kozlowski 4, D. Smith 0, Dart 0, Mack 2; Morans (29)—Flowers 8, Costello 7, Junquera 4, Maurer 4, Howard 4, McGowan 2.

Middletown's path to the triumph was eased somewhat by Kingston when it upset Monticello last Friday.

The other league tilt Tuesday saw Port Jervis riding over Ellenville by 22 to 19.

The scores: Middletown (31)—Totta 5, Belato 5, Copezella 5, Sharples 3, Herman 4, Osborne 0, Raub 5, Paduch 4, Monticello (22)—Brown 8, Rankell 5, Bailey 0, Nate 4, Norris 4, Gellman 1.

Port Jervis (22)—Dunn 3, Rutan 0, Kelly 2, Brown 14, Connolly 3, Orlando 0, Seiber 0, Ellenville (19)—Lepke 4, Larkin 0, Griswold 3, Rosenstein 0, Fuller 0, Van Keuren 2, Lazarowitz 7, Tennenbaum 3, Nissenbaum 0.

FELLER SIGNS FOR $30,000

Bob Feller (center), Indians' fireball specialist, is only 22 years old but he recently became the highest paid pitcher in the history of baseball when he signed a 1941 contract with Cleveland which will bring him an estimated $30,000. A' the signing in Cleveland he smiles broadly at Alva Bradley (left), Indians' president and Vice President C. C. Slapnicka who seem happy about the whole thing also.

Moose Members Win Tournament

Final Winners of Play-off to Get Award

The Kingston Moose took first honors in the four lodge tournament held at Poughkeepsie last week. Poughkeepsie, Peekskill and Newburgh followed.

The tournament was the first in a series to determine the championship of the Hudson Valley among the various lodges. A cup, emblematic of the championship, will be presented to the winner at the final elimination play-off.

Tony Slezak and Harry Townsma took honors in the pinocle matches. Ralph Mitchell and Al Mauro defeated Poughkeepsie in a pool match. The local organization dropped a dartball game to Poughkeepsie.

The Moose bowling team will be the guests of the lodge at a turkey supper, Thursday evening, February 13. The schedule of the tournament will be announced at a later date.

Tourney to Continue

The city pocket billiard tournament will continue this evening at the Kaslich Parlor when Jules Teller will meet Walt Jeghers at 8 o'clock sharp.

Lindbergh Says Peace Only End

people eager to see the man who made aviation history by flying alone from New York to Paris in 1927.

The famous flier, asked to appear before the House foreign affairs committee by opponents of the administration's lend-lease bill to aid Britain, did not mention the measure in his prepared statement. He said he understood he had been asked to discuss the effect of aviation on America's position in time of war. "I do not believe there is any danger of invasion of this country, either by sea or by air," Lindbergh continued, "as long as we maintain an army, navy and air force of reasonable size and in modern condition and provided we establish the bases essential for defense."

Cites Other Possibilities

In addition to such bases in Newfoundland, the West Indies, Hawaii and Alaska, Lindbergh said others should be established in Canada, parts of South and Central America, and the Galapagos Islands.

Secondary bases might be established, he said, in parts of Greenland but he expressed belief that area, which he has surveyed, was not of primary importance from the standpoint of aviation bases.

Although the aviator said the desirable size of the United States' air force depended largely upon conditions in other parts of the world, he declared "we would be wise to construct as rapidly as possible a total air force of about 10,000 thoroughly modern fighting planes plus reserves."

The army has approximately 25,000 planes of all types on hand or on order and the navy is building its air arm toward a 10,000-plane goal.

It was Lindbergh's first major public appearance in a witness chair since he testified against Bruno Hauptmann in the famous kidnap-murder trial six years ago, and the foreign affairs committee expected such a big crowd that extra police were called for duty around the tan-curtained hearing room.

The aviator has been sharply critical of the administration's course in foreign affairs, and has voiced his disapproval in several radio addresses.

Johnson Invited

Gen. Hugh Johnson, one-time NRA administrator and lately a caustic freelance objector to many Roosevelt policies, was invited to appear after Lindbergh today. The hearings will close Saturday with William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to France, as the final witness.

The House committee will begin private consideration of amendments Monday, the same day the similar Senate group starts its hearings. In preparation for the Senate hearings Chairman George (D-Ga.) and a subcommittee asked Secretaries Hull, Morgenthau, Stimson and Knox to a strategy conference this afternoon.

Those four officials told the House committee last week that the measure was essential not only to rush help to the British Isles but as a defense precaution for the United States.

In contrast to that view, Norman Thomas, the Socialist leader, and Sanford MacNider of Mason City, Iowa, former assistant secretary of war, testified yesterday that the measure would endanger this nation by creating dictatorial powers for the Chief Executive.

Both said that they would prefer to see the whole bill killed rather than amended.

"The only amendment I'm really in favor of," boomed MacNider, "is to change the very first line to make it read 'be it not enacted, etc.'"

A supporter of the measure, Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), in a radio speech last night described opponents as "Don Quixotes who joust against the imaginary dictatorship of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, while Hitler, little noticed, ravages the earth."

"If war shall come to this country," he said, "I lay it squarely before the door of those who brought war to England—the appeasers and the obstructionists."

Pepper took issue with the views of Joseph P. Kennedy, retiring ambassador to London, who told the House committee Tuesday that he did not favor the bill in its present form.

"It is unlike his (Kennedy's) great genius and his striking career of action," Pepper said, "for him now to reach indecision to a people whom he should be warning every minute of the day and night, and whom he should be counseling to bold, daring, vigorous action."

Vast U. S. Sections Are Lacking Title

Parts of Five States Make A No Man's Land.

WASHINGTON.—Dusty files in the general land office disclose the strange fact that five states contain whole areas which, as far as the country's title goes, are not a part of the United States.

Only one of the states, Colorado, has taken the trouble to do anything about the situation, hoisting a flag several years ago and claiming the area in the name of the federal government.

The land office relates the story of the paradox which has existed for 137 years:

When Napoleon peddled that large subdivision known as the Louisiana Purchase to America he could have used a better surveyor, to say the least.

Broadly, the territory included the western drainage basin of the Mississippi river. The negotiators made mistakes, though.

They believed certain sections drained into the Mississippi when actually they drained into the Great Lakes. So, under terms of the treaty, parts of what became Minnesota, North and South Dakota, are not properly parts of the Purchase.

The same thing happened in Louisiana.

A portion of this state—thought to drain into the Mississippi—turned out to drain into the Sabine river.

A part of Colorado was a little more involved.

A small part near Estes Park was discovered not to drain into the Mississippi, and hence was not a part of the Louisiana Purchase. On the other hand, it was east of the Continental Divide and not a part of what Mexico ceded to the United States in 1848.

Colorado State Hospital Helps to Pay Own Way

PUEBLO, COLO.—Colorado taxpayers consider the state hospital here one of the best money-makers they have expended their money to maintain.

A report of the financial board for the last fiscal year shows that the hospital not only lopped $14,610 off the tax expenses of the institution, but had provided constructive labor for many patients and has provided the 5,500 inmates and employees with vegetables.

Last year the gardens at the hospital produced $20,319 worth of produce at a cost of $6,169—a saving of $14,150 to the state. Included were $10,083 worth of vegetables in season, $5,689 stored in pits for winter use, $2,881 canned for winter consumption and $1,485 surplus sold.

The canning factory turned out 62,896 cans of tomatoes, 45,090 of string beans, 34,558 of peas and 2,000 of carrots.

Omaha Girl Organizes Club for Tall People

OMAHA, NEB.—Organization of a social club for tall men and women in Omaha is announced by Marie Treca, 19, who is three-fourths of an inch over six feet.

Qualifications for the club: men must be at least six feet four inches tall and not over seven feet; women six feet to six feet four. Age limits are 18 to 35 and any member marrying a person under the height requirements will be dropped automatically.

Circulars distributed by Miss Treca promised "picnics, hikes, dances, wiener roasts and parties to make the members the envy of all small fry."

Golden Fleece Is Found! No Myth for Bulgarians

BUCHAREST.—This is a modern story of the golden fleece. Rumanian customs officials became suspicious of blood on a flock of sheep some Bulgarian peasants were taking out of Rumania into Dobruja, now part of Bulgaria.

Investigation showed hides had been cut, gold inserted under the skin and the cuts sewed up. Some sheep wore gold bells around their necks, others had gold pieces hidden by long wool.

The Bulgarians were arrested.

Those who rated Jackson's chances high said that if he got the appointment, Biddle might be moved up to attorney general and Fahy to solicitor general. These sources said that Senator Byrnes, Undersecretary Patterson, Biddle and Fahy would rank in that order for the next vacancy on the high tribunal.

Justice McReynolds, in his letter of resignation to President Roosevelt yesterday, fixed its effective date as February 1. Actually the court days of the 78-year-old jurist were over, for the tribunal adjourned does not convene again until February 3 — McReynolds's 79th birthday.

McReynolds will be the fifth living retired member of the court. The other are: John H. Clarke, 83, who retired in 1922; Wallis Van Devanter, 81, who stepped down in 1937 during the court reorganization battle; George Sutherland, 78, who retired in 1938, and Louis D.
